GIRL SEEKS DEATH WHEN DESERTED BY HER PARENTS

IN GRIP OF SWEETHEART BOTH GO TO DEATH

Hazel Carter and Charles L. Palm Drowned

LATE CHAS. L. PALM.

The drowned:

Miss Hazel Carter, nineteen years old, residing with her mother, Mrs. R. R. Dawson, at 1912 Telegraph avenue, Oakland.

Mrs. Charles White, sister of Charles L. Palm, residing temporarily at Sacramento.

Emanuel Grigs, a fisherman, resident of Sacramento.

Treacherous whirlpools in the Sacramento river resulted yesterday afternoon in the drowning of four persons, two of them residents of Oakland. The tragedy occurred 300 yards above the junction of the Sacramento with the American river.

TWO OAKLAND VICTIMS.

The victims were Miss Hazel Carter and Charles L. Palm of this city, Mrs. Charles White occupied a houseboat, the Palm, and Emanuel Grigs, a Sacramento river fisherman.

Palm and Miss Carter had crossed the river in a duck-hunting boat, and when they reached the Yolo side, where Mrs. Charles White occuppied a houseboat, the duck boat was swept under its flooring by the whirling current and capsized. It is believed that Mrs. White, who was alone in the houseboat at the time, hearing the cries of Palm and Miss Carter, jumped into the river in hope of rescuing them.

HEARD THE SCREAMS.

Emanuel Grigs, whose houseboat was moored a short distance down river, also heard the screams, ran along the bank to the White houseboat and, without removing his heavy boots, dove into the water. Grigs succeeded in getting a hold on both women, but they and the whirling waters dragged him down to death when he had got them within a couple of yards of the White houseboat.

Later the bodies of the four drowned persons were recovered and taken to the Sacramento morgue.

Charles L. Palm and Miss Hazel Carter had been keeping company in Oakland since her arrival here about one year ago and it was generally understood that they were affianced. Palm had been OLIVE SCULLY, WHO KILLED JAMES F. GLOVER. FROM A PHOTOGRAPH TAKEN AT THE CITY PRISON YESTERDAY BY THE TRIBUNE.

SAVED BY LODGERS FROM THE GRAVE OF SUICIDE

'I Wish I Had Died,' Cries Unhappy Young Woman

Having no one to care for her and alone in the world as far as friends are concerned, Miss Edith Schriff, a tall young blonde, employed at 461 Ninth street, attempted to commit suicide this morning about 1 o'clock by drinking two ounces of lysol in her room at the lodging house. Her struggles after taking the deadly drug aroused the other roomers in the house, who summoned the police. In a few moments after she had drunk the poison the police patrol landed her at the Receiving Hospital where Steward Harry Borchert and Assistant Steward John Travers used antidotes to revive the woman

TELLS PITIFUL TALE.

When she was revived on the operating table and placed in a cot in the woman's ward, she told the hospital attendants that she had nothing to live for since her folks refused to have anything to do with her

"I would just as soon try it again and make a better job of it," said the woman this morning when she was about to leave the hospital. "I have been jilted by all the friends I ever had. I used to be well liked by other young folks, but they all seem to turn their backs on me. I don't know why they should. I have been in Oakland since the earthquake, and do not see my folks They live in San Francisco and when I tried to call on them they told me they wanted nothing to do winth me. Oh, I am so unhappy I wish I would have died last night."

Miss Schriff is twenty-five years old, and the acid burned large scars and has partly erased the pretty features.

WITHDRAW THE EDDY CASE

Want To Continue Hearing To Stop Will Contest

CONCORD, Aug. 21. — The case brought by relatives against Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of Christian Science, to gain control of her property, has been withdrawn.

Counsel for "next friends" announced that the suit for an accounting of the property of the Christian Science leader was withdrawn for many reasons, principally on account of the unlikelyhood of any immediate result of a decision in "our favor upon the exact issue as now framed."

WANTS TO PROCEED.

Attorney Streeter, the defendant counsel, immediately moved that the masters proceed with the hearing upon the question of her competency to manage her affairs, and added:

"If we are allowed to proceed we will show how, on February 21, Mrs. Eddy began to arrange for the management of her property for the rest of her life, and to provide for her kindred during that time."

Streeter characterized the suit as primarily to an assault upon a great religion by great newspapers.

Said he: "Not a word of testimony has been introduced to show a dollar of her money was ever misappropriated. The charge of her incompetency has completely collapsed. It is now stated in the press that this suit was abandoned for the purpose of awaiting the defendant's death, then contesting her will. Mrs. Eddy has a legal right to the finding of her competency upon the case as it now stands, or upon further evidence she may introduce."

Judge Aldrich replied that the masters would not be justified in going on with the ex-parte hearing unless so directed by the court.

BIG BANK FAILURE

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 21.—The Oregon Trust and Savings Bank of this city did not open for business today. A notice was posted by order of the board of directors announcing the inability of the bank to realize on securities. Another notice was posted by order of the board of disclosed by order of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Multnomah county. Thomas C. Devlin, formerly county auditor, is receiver.

The Oregon Trust and Savings Bank was capitalized for $100,000, and its deposits ten days ago amounted to about heir $3,000,000. On May 7th the bank issued a statement that its deposits amounted to $2,464,420, and its liabilities $2,638,420

That directors of the institution, of which W. H. Moore is president and E. E. Lyttle vice-president, knew of the impending crash several days ago, it leaked out by the announcement made today that the meeting of the bankers of the city was called last night to consider the situation. The other banks were called upon to support the Oregon Trust and Savings, but they did not respond to the appeal and the conference adjourned at 2 o'clock this morning.

In an interview today, Vice-President E. E. Lyttle, placed responsibility for the failure upon the shoulders of W. Cooper Morris, the cashier of the concern Lyttle asserts that without authority of the board of directors, Cashier Morris bought securities for hundreds of thousands of dollars and sold securities for large sums, and that last Thursday, also without authority of the board of directors, Cashier Morris took bonds in the Home Telephone Company to the amount of $1,300,000 and went to New York to dispose of them, evidently with the idea of obtaining funds to place the bank on a better financial basis.

Lyttle is severe in his condemnation of the business methods of Cashier Morris Friends of the latter, however, say that he acted within his rights and had the bank been allowed to do business a few more days he would have placed it upon its feet. It is known that the bank owned valuable real estate and other securities. A large number of depositors of the poorer and middle classes will be sufferers.

DISCOVERY DEFEATS INCENDIARY'S PLOT

Fire Marshal Suspects Owner of Saloon

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—A determined attempt was made early this morning by an incendiary to set fire to the saloon at 715 Davis street, owned by Argura Elias.

Coal oil had been sprinkled over all barrels and bar fixtures in the place, and paper and kindling wood had been touched off in a box under the bar.

The incendiary also tore the meter from the gas pipe, thus flooding the room with gas. A hole had been bored in the floor and kindling wood saturated with coal oil placed underneath. The kindling under the bar, however, was the only inflamable material that was actually set off, and it is probable that the culprit was frightened away before he could complete his work.

PROPRIETOR ABSENT.

Argura Elias, the proprietor of the place, left for Suisun last week, and since then his wife has been attending to the business. She was the one who discovered the attempt to burn down the place when she opened the saloon this morning, and she reported her discovery to the harbor police station. Officer Owens was detailed on the case He notified Fire Marshal Towe, and the latter made an investigation.

SUSPECTS OWNER.

The marshal is satisfied that Mrs. Elias is innocent and also that James Gerreta, who formerly kept a cigar stand in front of the saloon, had nothing to do with the crime. He inclines to the theory that Elias himself did not go to Suisun, but that it was he who attempted to set fire to his saloon in order to get the insurance amounting to $1600.

The marshal considers the insurance heavy, as the place is merely a shack, and with its contents is not worth more than $200. In addition to Fire Marshal Towe, Detectives Conlon and McGowan are working on the case.

SOCIETY WOMAN IN THE CASE

She Lives in East Oakland and Husband Stands High.

Olive Scully was not allowed to attend the funeral of Deputy County Clerk James F. Glover this morning despite her earnest plea for permission to do so. The police were given to understand that the Scully woman's presence at the funeral services would be extremely unpleasant to Glover's relatives, and accordingly she was kept in confinement while the last rites were being performed over the remains of her former companion.

Women wept around the bier of the

The name of the society woman who is mixed up in the Glover murder case and of whom Olive Scully was intensely jealous is known to THE TRIBUNE. She was caught at Amon Chateau in the company of Glover by the Scully woman. The society woman's husband has been told the story. She resides in East Oakland and is highly esteemed. There is no necessity of dragging her name into the case at present.

CUPID WINS AFTER THREE TIMES DOWN AND OUT

Dorothy McKellips Flees With Salinas Groom

SALINAS, Aug. 21.—Pretty and vivacious Dorothy Nell McKellips, after giving Cupid the double-cross three times, has been swirled away by Jewett H. Bubar upon the spurt of life's journey, leaving Jay McCabe of San Jose eating the dust from the flying automobile which was racing with his fiancee, now another man's wife.

Pretty Nell has picked Salinas off its feet and tumbled it in the road all the way to Del Monte. Such a whirlwind of a girl never was seen here before Dorothy Nell came here first, a few months ago, and rolled her pretty eyes on Bubar at Parker & Irvines dry goods store, where she went to buy some baby ribbon.

Bubar saw the pretty thing coming,

Oh My, What a Clean-Up if Spring Valley Can Be — $15,000,000 — Sold to San Francisco at a Highwayman's Figure

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The more the light of inquiry is turned on the graft prosecution-Spring Valley combination the more astounding are the revelations. If that band of civic missionaries were permitted to continue their work of rehabilitating the local government of San Francisco by causing to be indicted and sent to jail all who presented the slightest obstacle to their plans of purity, they would have the city bonded to themselves to the tune of at least $75,000,000.

SPRING VALLEY.

There are, of course, constitutional and charter restrictions in respect to the incurring of public indebtedness but these are apparently matters of indifference to the graft prosecution which has assumed to take charge of the municipal government in all three branches—executive, judicial and legislative. The prosecution has absorbed and made Spring Valley a part of itself to a degree that refuses it to charge "graft" against all that even criticise the methods of this specially protected corporation.

NO CONFISCATION.

In their haste to favor Spring Valley the supervisors and Mayor Taylor had hardly had their title to office determined before they considered a resolution confiscating the property of that corporation by the city for its failure to supply the water rate takers with water the scheduled price fixed by a former Board of Supervisors. That this was no insignificant favor to the corporation is indicated by the advance of the value of its securities by from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 as soon as the confiscatory resolution was withdrawn or rescinded.

In addition to the $28,000,000 for which the Spring Valley manipulators propose to sell the plant of that corporation to the city regardless of the hold-out profit of $15,000,000, which the ring intends to clean up on the side, there is the Hetch-Hetchy scheme or device which plays a conspicuous part in the job. The Hetch-Hetchy scheme apparently is nothing but a blind with a field of decoys to trap the city into the purchase of Spring Valley at the figures of the manipulators of the scheme. Much has been said and printed by the promoters of the water job, some of whom are also conspicuous as the enemies of graft by other corporations, about the Hetch-Hetchy or Tuolumne river supply of water costing the city nothing. According to these civic purists the Federal Government is to make San Francisco a present of it just as soon as Spring Valley shall have been unloaded on the unsuspecting taxpayers. According to the diagnosis by James D. Phelan and some more of the promoters of the graft prosecution, it is made to appear that all the citizens will have to do to secure an abundant supply of Sierra water will be to purchase the Spring Valley's shattered and inadequate plant. Immediately following this the United States Government will proceed to fill the disjointed and leaky old pipes with potable water in sufficient quantities to meet all municipal and domestic requirements.

LOOT THE TAXPAYERS.

It is safe to say, however, that the Federal Government will not lend its aid to a scheme to loot the taxpayers of San Francisco of from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000 under the cloak of civic reform. While Secretary of the Interior Garfield might regret and even sympathize with I. W. Hellman, Rudolph Spreckels, James Phelan and other bankers who have $14,000,000 of Spring Valley bonds on their hands, he undoubtedly would hesitate to make the Federal Government a party to the Spring Valley shall have been unloaded

PROSECUTE RUEF, BATTLE CRY OF THE DELEGATES

Langdon May Not Be Nominated by Republicans Unless He Agrees to Do His Duty.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—There is gloom in the Ryan Republican camp. The joyous confidence of a week ago has departed. At that time the Ryanites, who represent Spreckels, Heney, Burns and other similar exemplars of civic virtue, claimed to control so nearly the whole of the delegates to the convention that the minority conceded to the regular Republican organization was so small that it was not only unworthy of serious consideration, but was a joke.

Now it is said that minority infant has grown and developed in a remarkable degree. Hence the dejection of the would-be redeemers of the city by the office-holding route. A few days ago the Ryanites, or Leaguers, admitted that the puny minority had reached the number of forty-six out of a total membership of 149 delegates. At that time the Leaguers claimed to control every delegate in the Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth and Forty-first districts. Now it appears that a bolt in these delegations is imminent, if it has not already taken place. The only question that stands between the breaking up of the Ryan forces and their remaining practically as they appeared to be when elected is, "Does the regular organization wish to interfere in the present situation?"

HANDED SOMETHING.

It looked from the outset as though Ryan and his associates of the graft prosecution were being "handed something." The regular organization announced that it was "hands off" from the start, and it lived up to that statement is so far as surface indications went. There was no central organization and in some of the districts no maching ticket was put in the field. In two or three of the large districts fights were put up by the district organization leaders. But these contests were largely those of personal pride in district control and received no special support from the main organization. Postmaster Arthur Fisk thought he could carry his district, the Thirty-seventh, and undertook to do so. It looked so easy that he only made half a fight, and was defeated.

But now that the political skies have cleared, it would appear that on a roll call the regular machine will have a majority of the convention should it desire to organize it. The solic. delegations the Leaguers claimed to have returned from

Two thickly populated districts are much divided. In the Thirty-seventh district the so-called Ryan ticket has at least 50 per cent organization men on it. In the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth districts similar conditions exist subject to the call of the regular organization. The Forty-sixth is Ryan's home district, and of the sixteen delegates returned at least six have organization affiliations. In the Forty-first a still larger proportion of the delegation has leanings to the old machine.

DEJECTION OF RYAN.

It thus appears that the dejection of Ryan and Newberry is not without cause. If the regular Republican machine so desires, it can organize the convention and name the ticket from Mayor to the lowest office in the list. The question remains, "Will the organization take any hand in the nomination of the ticket?" Special stress was laid on the "independence" of the delegations nominated by the Leaguers, so no fault can be found if they pursue their independent course in the convention. Some of the delegations claimed by the Ryanites were nominated by the regulars and afterward absorbed by the Leaguers. This was done in the Forty-first district, to the great dissatisfaction of the club that named the ticket in the first instance and which entered public protest against its delegates being taken over by the reformers without permission being even asked.

PROSECUTE RUEF.

The Ryanites have pledged themselves to the graft prosecution to nominate Langdon for District Attorney in the Republican convention. Many of the delegates demanded that before this is done Langdon should be required to pledge himself to see that Abe Ruef is not granted immunity, but punished in full measure for the crimes he has committed. Ryan and Manager Newberry consented to this—in fact, thought it would be a good thing. Then Rudolph Spreckels, who contributed largely to the primary campaign fund of this faction, demanded that Langdon be nominated without any pledge or any reference to Ruef in the platform.

"Should Langdon be pledged to see Ruef punished," Spreckels is reported to have said, "it would embarrass the graft prosecution very much."

The confusion in the Republican League camp over the nomination of Langdon is increasing daily and a serious political disturbance, or even the turning down of the present District Attorney for a renomination, may result.

LABOR UNION CAMP.

In the Labor Union camp they will have none of Langdon. They consider that he defeated Bell and elected Gillett. They also resent his permitting a special paid prosecution of Schmitz.

Langdon is scarcely more popular with the Democrats. If he is nominated by that convention, it will be a matter of politics, pure and simple, and not because he is the choice of the delegates. The outlook is that Langdon will not be renominated at the hands of the Democratic convention.

A leading Democrat in speaking of the situation asked:

"What governs the State—the law or the District Attorney? If a District Attorney can grant Ruef immunity because of the testimony the latter gives, then he may grant all the criminals in the State immunity. His powers, as he interprets them, seem to be arbitrary. He may send one man to jail for a crime and give another, who has committed a crime of the same degree, immunity and entertain him in a palace at the expense of the taxpayers. The sentiment of the Democrats is that Ruef ought to be making bags at San Quentin for farmers instead of being maintained in luxury for having handled bags of boodle."

Another Democrat said:

"If Ruef should not go to jail, who should? He is the author of San Francisco's woe and shame. Why should Langdon pardon him? When Langdon feels disposed to have a jail delivery, there is nothing in the law, as he interprets it, to prevent his ordering one. The Democrats will draw the line at immunity for Ruef."

SACRAMENTO WHIRLPOOLS CLAIM OAKLAND VICTIMS

electrician in charge of the moving pictures at the Novelty Theater up to last Saturday night when he resigned to go on a trip to Sacramento, which ended in his death.

He had contemplated visiting with his sister a few days, and was accompanied Monday when he left Oakland by Miss Carter. He also was intending to enjoy a short vacation at Mrs. White's. Later Palm had planned to engage in salmon fishing with his brother-in-law, Charles White, who is in that business about twenty miles above Sacramento. Hazel Carter had an offer of employment in Weinstock & Lubin's department store in Sacramento, and contemplated accepting it after her visit with Mrs. White had ceased.

Miss Carter resided with her mother, Mrs. R. R. Dawson, at 1912 Telegraph avenue, this city. Until a TRIBUNE reporter today informed Mrs. Dawson of the sad tragedy she had no intelligence of her daughter being drowned. Mrs. Dawson expressed profound emotion, and bewailed the fatal trip her daughter had made.

"I pleaded with Hazel Sunday night not to go to Sacramento," she said, "but Hazel thought a change from Oakland was best for her. She had got into a clique from which she wished to break away. She had had aspirations for a stage life. She was a very skilled dancer, could sing, and also play the piano. She and Charles Palm had been keeping company, but they had not told me of their being engaged to be married.

"Hazel was 19 years and 6 months old and born in San Francisco. She was a tall beautiful girl. When she left here she wore a dark blue skirt and box coat, the latter lined with black and white silk, the collar trimmed with small red and white checks. Her white 'dude' hat had plaid band, and a large automobile veil She also wore a dotted swiss shirtwaist and low cut shoes."

It was understood by employes at the Novelty Theater that Miss Carter aspired to a stage career. She frequented vaudeville show houses and there became acquainted with Charles Palm while he was an usher. Mrs. Dawson said that her daughter learned to dance from seeing artists dance at the Orpheum, which she attended while a young girl with her brother, now dead.

"She had one peculiarity," the mother added. "She would never have herself photographed."

Charles Palm was a brother of Al Palm, who was shot in the neck while acting as chauffeur for Manager Guy Smith's auto in San Francisco a few weeks ago at the time of the carmen riots. Al Palm only recently left a hospital recovered from his wound. He has gone to Sacramento to care for the remains of his drowned brother and sister. The latter's husband was away on business when Mrs. White was drowned. White and wife formerly lived in this city for awhile.

NEW POLICE BOARD AWAIT ACTION OF SUPERVISORS

Dinan to Make Fight in Court to Retain Position When His Head Falls in Basket.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—There was no effort on the part of the new Police Commissioners to assume the duties of their office this morning. It is understood that the appointments made by Mayor Taylor must first be ratified by the Board of Supervisors before the new appointees can take their seats.

The Supervisors will not meet this afternoon, but a session will probably be called for tomorrow.

As soon as the new commission is ratified by the board and the old commissioners have been formally notified that they are dismissed, the latter may get a temporary restraining order from the Superior Court preventing their successors from taking office.

TRIAL FOR DINAN.

The application for this restraining order would be argued in the court at once and a definite decision handed down. When the new board assumes office it will immediately suspend Chief of Police Dinan, and call upon him to answer charges of misconduct in office.

During this suspension of the chief, Captain Anderson of the Mission station, who is the senior captain, will be acting chief. According to a decision handed down by the Supreme Court in the case of the City of San Francisco vs. Chief of Police Wittman, the salary of Chief Dinan would have to be paid to him until he was actually dismissed from the department.

In the trial of Dinan the board has complete power of removal and sifts the evidence in the case. As there is no question as to the case against Dinan, there is no doubt that his offical head will fall into the basket immediately after the new board assumes control.

Perfect Womanhood

The greatest menace to woman's permanent happiness in life is the suffering that comes from some derangement of the feminine organs.

Many thousands of women have realized this too late to save their health, barely in time to save their lives.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headache, bearing-down sensations, nervousness, irregularities or the "blues," she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as the great woman's remedy for woman's ills, made only of roots and herbs.

It cures Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and all Organic Diseases, and is invaluable in the Change of Life. It dissolves and Expels Tumors at an early stage. Subdues Faintness, Nervous Prostration, Exhaustion, and strengthens and tones the Stomach. Cures Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, and invigorates the whole female system. It is an excellent remedy for derangements of the Kidneys in either sex.

FIRST WIFE WILL BATTLE FOR HARVEY'S FORTUNE

MRS. LOUISE HARVEY. MRS. JANE HARVEY.

Mrs. Jane Harvey Declares Late Poolroom Man Never Got a Divorce From Her.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—"I was the wife of Joseph Harvey for fourteen years. There was no divorce. There was only a separation. This woman, the second wife of Mr. Harvey, supplanted me in his affections while I was away in Europe. He was legally married to her, it is true, but I have rights and I mean to assert them. I shall commence proceedings in the near future to contest the will of Mr. Harvey. I am not at liberty at the present time to tell who my attorneys are."

The above statement was made yesterday by Mrs. Jane Harvey, who claims to be the first wife of the late Joseph Harvey, the well-known poolroom man. Mrs. Jane Harvey intends to contest the will with Mrs. Louis Harvey, claiming a widow's share of the estate of $500,000.

WIDOW IS CONFIDENT.

In a luxurious flat at 730 Franklin street is Mrs. Louise Harvey, wearing widow's weeds for her husband, who died scarcely ten days ago. She is confident of her right to the immense estate bequeathed to her by her husband's will. She is confident that she is the legal widow of Joseph Harvey and that no one has the right to question her claim.

In an equally comfortable home at 1056 Ellis street is Mrs. Jane Harvey, not in mourning, it is true, but at the same time possessed of the firm conviction that she, too, has indisputable rights to the properties of Joseph Harvey.

Mrs. Louis Harvey answers Mrs. Jane Harvey in the following statement:

"I know of no first Mrs. Harvey. Mr. Harvey in life made me his confidant. He told me everything, even going so far as to relate his business transactions with me, but he never mentioned, and I am sure he never had, a first wife. I have never met the woman who claims to be his first wife.

"I was married to Mr. Harvey on December 18, 1902, at Redwood City. The legality of our marriage was never disputed.

"I have no fear of any contest of the will. I am sure I can prove my right to the widow's share in his estate."

Mrs. Jane Harvey first met Joseph Harvey in 1892, and was everywhere introduced as his wife. At that time both were intimate with the late Charles Fair and his wife, who were killed in an automobile accident in France. When Charles Fair and his wife were hurled to death, Mrs. Jane Harvey fell heir to all Mrs. Fair's magnificent jewels, which she still possesses.

SAY WILL IS SOUND.

Mrs. Louise Harvey was formerly a Miss Cahill. She later became a Mrs. McDonald, and after that came the announcement of her marriage to Joseph Harvey.

Joseph Harvey died in this city ten days ago of typhoid pneumonia. His death was unexpected, coming after a brief illness. The value of the estate of Harvey is estimated at between $500,000 and $600,000. He was interested with Frank Daroux in the Sausalito poolrooms and owned property in different parts of the State. He was also interested in other sporting ventures, and was known throughout the West as a sporting man and gambler.

One of the executors of the will of Joseph Harvey is Frank Daroux. The attorney for the executors is Charles Heggarty. Mr. Heggarty expressed the opinion yesterday that the will could not be broken, and that Mrs. Louise Harvey was the only person entitled to the widow's share of the property. The will bequeathes one-half the estate to the widow and leaves the remainder to be divided among the brothers and sisters of the deceased, some of whom reside in this State and some in Ireland.

The friends of Mrs. Jane Harvey, in speaking of her claims, say that she was most devoted to Joseph Harvey, and that she was in a large measure responsible for his business success.

transaction by offering the Hetch-Hetchy to the schemers for nothing.

Even accepting the Hetch-Hetchy supply as a gift to San Francisco, it would cost from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000, because of the great distance, to bring the water to the city and deliver it to the ramshackle distributing system of Spring Valley. Add $30,000,000 to the $28,000,000 which the bondholders of Spring Valley propose to charge San Francisco for its plant, and which scheme is apparently being promoted under the orders of the "big stick," and the total is $58,000,000. This is exclusive of the $15,000,000 which the champions of the graft prosecution expect to clean up, on the side, from the Lake Merced and other properties it is proposed to hold out in the transaction.

PHELAN AND GRAFT.

Strange as it may appear, it has not been made manifest that James D. Phelan, or other conspicuous members of the so-called graft prosecution, have taken any step to stop, or much less punish, Spring Valley for the grafts or steals that it has enjoyed for years by collecting interest in water rates on the property which it now proposes to withhold from the city and which is valued at from $7,000,000 to $15,000,000. There are water-rate payers in this city who believe that the graft prosecution and the District Attorney's office might find employment of great profit to the taxpayers by causing Spring Valley to make restitution of the plunder it has secured under the guise of interest on properties which it now admits are not essential to its water service and which it proposes to hold out.

SPRING VALLEY EXEMPT.

There are those who even think that such a prosecution would result in a greater benefit to the city than the pursuit of Janitor Duffy and Supervisor Nicholas in relation to a commission of $26 on a sale of furniture to the city. While Nicholas has been given the usual immunity contract both for his testimony against others, Spring Valley seems to be luxuriating in a Hammam under the protecting wing of the special prosecution. And this notwithstanding its plunderings of the tax and water rate payers of San Francisco for a long series of years.

Possibly disclosures along these lines are among the surprises that Phelan, Spreckels, Heney and Burns have promised the taxpayers that have been boarding Abe Ruef and Eugene Biggy at a charge of $2000 a month.

Secretary of the Interior Garfield has frequently been quoted by Phelan and his associates in the promotion of Spring Valley securities and the restoration of civic probity, as most desirous of coming to the assistance of the bondholders of the water company in their latest proposed speculation at the expense of the taxpayers of San Francisco. It is safe to predict that unless Secretary Garfield is furnished with incontrovertible evidence that the Hetch-Hetchy is the only supply available to San Francisco, and that none other may be secured at a price equally low with the Spring Valley charge for its plant, less the bondholders' profits, and plus the cost of bringing the Sierra water to the city, the Federal Government will not interfere, in restraint of trade, even in the matter of a municipal water supply.

Should any other individual or corporation be prepared to supply San Francisco with water, for a smaller clean-up than $15,000,000, members of the graft prosecution will no longer be furnished an excuse for posing as martyrs to civic righteousness at that figure.

Bryan in Fourth Wreck in Rockford

BELVEDERE, Ill., Aug. 21.—William J. Bryan was the occupant of one of the three coaches of the Northwestern train which was ditched near here yesterday. Bryan emerged blandly and made this memorandum in his diary. "This is the fourth time a wreck has occurred on my various journeys to speak at the Rockford Chautauqua."

Bryan trudged with the others about two miles, then took the trolley here for Rockford. The wreck was caused by the baggage car taking an open switch.

A RECORD BREAKER

It is said that the greatest and quickest permanent advertising success on record is that of Cascarets, Candy Cathartic, which have been persistently advertised in every way, but chiefly in newspapers for about ten years. In that time the sale of Cascarets has grown from nothing to over one million boxes a month. This wonderful record is the result of great merit successfully made known. Those who tried Cascarets as a direct result of advertising were pleased and recommended the article to their friends until its fame was spread to become universal.

WOMEN WEEP AT GLOVER'S BIER

late James Francis Glover, in the church of the Immaculate Conception, this morning. Tears fell behind veiled faces and audible sobs, at times, punctuated the solemn requiem which both priest and choir were chanting for the repose of the soul of the deceased.

Disfigurement for life or death were the only alternatives of the man into whose eyes and face Jean Collier, or Olive Scully, as she was also known, had dashed a vial of vitriol. Four sisters and a brother of the deceased were present at the funeral.

FILLED AUDITORIUM.

The alditorium of the church was filled, in the main, by women as it has not been filled at mortuary service for many a day. There was also present a number of men who had known the deceased in professional life, and among these were not a few who had the young man in their eyes from infancy.

These latter were men advanced in years, and when they appeared at the entrance to the church at the close of the exercises, their eyes, too, were suffused with tears, because all of them felt the untimely taking off of the youth who had, it had seemed to them, such a life of promise before him.

SIGNS OF MOURNING.

The remains lay in a drab cloth casket in the main aisle of the church, immediately in front of the main altar, on the lid of which lay a beautiful floral pall, the last tribute to a beloved brother by the members of the bereaved family.

On either side of the casket stood six massive lighted tapers, the holders of which were draped with serge.

The main altar was shrouded in black and the candelabra, which supported six lighted candles somewhat smaller than those around the bier, were also hidden behind a darksome veil.

THE SERVICES.

The exercises consisted of a requiem mass, which was followed by the final benediction for the dead.

The mass was chanted in Gregorian by Rev. Father Kenney of the clergymen connected with the church. A mass of this character calls into requisition an organ and lay as well as clerical singers. The organ in this instance was presided over by Miss Eva Sandin, and the singing was done by Adolph Gregory, bass, and Mrs. F. Longworthy, soprano. The mass thus rendered was "Schmidt's Requiem," and was rendered in a sympathetic and affecting manner.

TOWARD THE GRAVE.

At the close of the final benediction the remains were borne from the church, the organ pealing the dead march from "Saul."

The pallbearers were L. S. Buckley, J. D. Scanlan, James T. Brennan, Bert Morgan, John P. Cook, Tom Brudley.

Among people well known in this city who were present were: Judge H. A. Melvin, Sheriff Frank Barnet, Councilman George E. Aitken, Supervisor J. M. Kelley, County Clerk J. P. Cook, Walter Burwell, D. A. Sinclair, James Landregan, William Schmidt, John Heany, Al White and many others.

The remains were borne to St. Mary's cemetery, where they were interred in the family plot.

THE FLOWERS.

Prior to the exercises at the church the remains had lain over night in the Finney undertaking parlors and it was there, at 9:15 o'clock this morning, that a last farewell of the deceased was taken by William Glover, the only brother, as also by the four sisters of the deceased. There was an environment of flowers of many varieties wrought into beautiful and symbolic designs which had been sent by relatives and friends as silent but yet eloquent tributes of respect and esteem. Among these remembrances of a pleasant past were noticed the following.

Awful Jealousy That Led to Death

While relatives were weeping over the bier of James F. Glover today and sorrowing friends were accompanying his mortal remains to the tomb, Olive Scully, the woman who threw acid which caused Glover's death, sat in a city prison cell almost undisturbed, except by her own thoughts.

The Scully woman, stories of whose recurrent exhibitions of jealousy of Glover have been common topics of discussion about town in circles where she and Glover were best known, denies that she had an encounter at A Mon Chateau in Pleasant Valley with a well-known society woman of East Oakland. Nevertheless that such an encounter did occur, because Olive Scully found Glover in company with another woman at the resort in Piedmont foothills, has been food for common gossip among acquaintances of both parties for weeks. Even the name of the East Oakland woman of fashion, as well as that of her highly esteemed husband, has been heard uttered when two or three, or perhaps half a dozen, young men about town were talking of the rumored quarrels Glover and Olive Scully were having over his asserted association with a fair dame in whose social circle Olive Scully had no hope of ever gaining entrance.

MAKES A DENIAL.

Now, however, Olive Scully denies the A Mon Chateau incident, much to the relief of many persons who feared a dragging into public view of a sidelight of their lives. However, the A Mon Chateau episode is said by those "in the know" to have been but one of numerous similar incidents which served to whet the jealousy of Olive Scully and led to frequent quarrels between her and Glover. The woman knew from Glover's admissions that he had been counseled by friends to drop out of her life as quickly as possible, and while resenting such a possible finish to their association, she is said to have often told him that no other woman could have him as long as she could prevent it.

SHE TOOK POISON.

As long ago as July 22 of last year Olive Scully, known about town then as "Jean Collier," and living at 921 Broadway, was taken to the Receiving Hospital suffering from a dose of lysol which the hospital record says she had taken "with suicidal intent." To the hospital attendants the woman told a tale of jealousy of Glover's attentions to another than herself, though she had been known as his "steady company" for more than two years. She did not accuse Glover of neglecting her for any high society woman, however, and her indignation was attributed to a temporary spat between herself and Glover.

TOLD TO BREAK AWAY.

The incident of the attempt to commit suicide drew public attention to Olive Scully, and led to a feeling of unrest on the part of Glover's personal and political friends. He was counseled to break off his associations with "Jean Collier," it being pointed out that his political future was being jeopardized. Reports floated around that "Jean Collier" had previously shared the lot of one "Kid" Blazer, a race track follower, and of "Chalk" Conners, who had "served time" across the bay. Though possessing relatives of some prominence and respectability in an inland city, she was represented as a woman of many and changeable moods who on the impulse of the moment would pause at no barrier. But she had given up the life of the half-world, and with Glover took living rooms in an apartment house at 1007 Harrison street, where friends of both say their quarrels continued from time to time, more privately than before, but nevertheless quarrels, and usually over the same old theme—the woman's knowledge of, or suspicions of Glover's intention to break away from her.

LOANED MONEY.

It was, perhaps, with the hope of more firmly chaining him to her side, so Glover's friends argue, that Olive Scully loaned $3000 to Glover for the purpose of acquiring an interest in the Davy Crockett saloon and cigar store on Broadway. That was less than a year ago. On July 5 of the present year she sued Glover for the $3000, and caused an attachment to be levied on his sare in the saloon, and his salary and a piece of real estate in East Oakland. Frank J. Murphy and Charles N. Douglas of San Francisco were her attorneys in the action. On July 19 a written notice signed by them was served on the clerk of the Superior Court that dismissal of her action was desired by Olive Scully.

The story goes that Glover raised a portion of the money from a fellow official by selling the cigar stand to him, and partly satisfied Olive Scully's demands for return of the $3000. August 5 a second attachment, including only Glover's East Oakland property, was filed in court, having been returned by the sheriff.

From that time until the morning when at 2 o'clock the woman threw the deadly acid in Glover's face, his friends were expecting at any time to hear of some such catastrophe. That the attachment suit was meant to punish Glover for flirting, they had no doubts. So tongues wagged whenever "Jimmy" was seen by his friends in company with any woman, or even speaking to any other than Olive Scully. That she had spies watching his movements is asserted, for whenever he chanced to speak to a fair dame anywhere he was questioned about the fact by Olive Scully. Even court litigants speaking to the deputy clerk in his courtroom are asserted to have come under the ban of Olive Scully's vigilance and jealousy.

CAR STRIKE WILL SOON BE ENDED, SAYS TVEITMOE

Secretary of the Carmen's Committee Declares Men Will Be at Work in Few Days.

(From S. F. Examiner, August 21.)

A settlement of the street car strike is near at head, according to C. A. Tveitmoe, secretary of the General Strike Committee, and he predicts that before long all cars of the United Railroads will be operated by union platform men. Further than this Mr. Tveitmoe avers that the matter of hours and wages are to be adjusted after the men return to work.

It was after a stormy meeting of the General Strike Committee that Secretary Tveitmoe issued his statement regarding the street car situation. The meeting was attended by Michael Casey, Andrew Furuseth and Andrew Gallagher among others and before the meeting adjourned, they walked out of the hall, refusing to vote on a resolution charging that certain labor leaders had been misled by designing persons into a movement aimed at the destruction of organized labor.

The statement made by Tveitmoe regarding the strike situation is not concurred in by Richard Cornelius, president of the Carmen's Union, who averred that the strikers would remain out until their demands were granted. Patrick Calhoun stated that he was surprised to learn that the men intended to return to work, but he announced his willingness to receive them when they made applications.

TVEITMOE TALKS.

Regarding the position of President Cornelius and the attitude of the Building Trades Council, Secretary Tveitmoe had the following to say last night.

"There is a widespread demand for the resignation of President Richard Cornelius from the union.

"Secretary-Treasurer James H. Bowling will remain in that office in the union.

"The Building Trades organizations have contributed $110,000 to the striking carmen in eleven weeks, fulfilling the promise of the Building Trades Council to contribute $10,000 a week

"The San Francisco Labor Council has furnished in the same time but $27,000. It promised $8000 a week, so that only a third of what it should contribute has been paid into the fund, though the Carmen's Union is a member of that body.

"The Building Trades Council considers that this lopsided partnership to carry on the strike is unfair to it. We feel that we must soon leave the Labor Council to carry its burden alone in view of its failure to share the expenses of the campaign thus far.

"There have been no negotiations with President Calhoun of the United Railroads."

The first split in the General Strike Committee came last night when W. H. Urmy, representing the Electrical Workers' Union, affiliated with the Building Trades Council, offered for adoption a resolution condemning the actions of persons whom many members of the committee regard are attempting to widen the breach between organized labor and other interests in the city.

Before the conclusion of the reading of the resolution, Michael Casey, Andrew Furuseth and Andrew J. Gallagher, representing organizations affiliated with the Labor Council, left the meeting so that they might not be recorded as voting on the matter.

CORNELIUS CASTS A VOTE.

President Cornelius of the Carmen's Union remained as the chairman of the committee He was not expected to vote, being in the chair, but did so, saying

"I wish to be recorded as voting against this resolution. I will not consent to this expression of views on these men."

After the adoption of the resolution, Cornelius alone voting against it, Cornelius left the meeting-room, flushed with anger He joined Casey and Furuseth, who stood in a corner of the hallway, and the three talked earnestly for five minutes. They refused to discuss the matter for publication.

In the resolution objected to by Casey and Cornelius, which was adopted, the charge is made that certain designing persons are seeking to disrupt the union labor movement in this city by pretending to be the friends of organized labor and by advising steps that are aimed to divide and destroy the power of the unions in San Francisco The "Bulletin," an evening paper, and its editors are accused of trying to lead the union men into confusion, and it is alleged that the paper, by publishing false reports, is striving to intensify the present industrial troubles for purely political purposes. The statement, in part, reads as follows:

"For some time past certain persons have made it their especial business to ingratiate themselves with certain men affiliated with organized labor for the purpose of posing as labor's friend. These persons have endeavored to carry water on both shoulders, first, by assuming the position of the only true advisers of organized labor, and second, by doing the politics of those who are bent upon the destruction of the union movement in San Francisco.

"These persons who, by environment and affiliation, have not the slightest use for unions and union men, have used every means known to political manipulation and intrigue to lead the union movement into inextricable confusion with a view to rendering it powerless at the coming election Having failed thus far, innovations have been introduced by which it is intended that all efforts to bring industrial peace by and through the general campaign strike committee may be nullified.

SAY STORIES ARE UNTRUE.

"The falsified reports appearing in the 'Bulletin' from day to day but confirm these facts. Reports of alleged conferences between the contending parties, which are absolute lies, are disseminated for the purpose of widening the breach

The directors of the Merchants' Exchange held an enthusiastic meeting last night, over which Vice President Gard presided. The merchants pledged themselves to give the Alameda County Carnival a "boost" and unanimously adopted the following, resolution, which was framed by Secretary Wilbur Walker:

TO DEMONSTRATE PROGRESS.

"Whereas, It is proposed to hold a carnival and exposition of Alameda county products at Idora Park in September, 1907; and

"Whereas, The present seems to be an opportune time for such an undertaking, as it will demonstrate the progress and prosperity of Oakland and Alameda county; therefore,

"Resolved, by the Merchants' Exchange, That we indorse the proposed exposition and pledge our organization to assist in every legitimate way to make it a success."

MORE PUBLICITY.

Craigie Sharpe, chairman of the publicity committee, reported that he had visited the managers of all the daily newspapers asking them to give more attention and publicity to the city of Oakland.

The plans drawn up for the salt water plant are now ready, awaiting the selection of a site, which will probably be on the west side of Lake Merritt.

Secretary Walker stated that he had heard that there were hop fields at Pleasanton where the hop growers are suing the Spring Valley Water Company for using all the water and drying up the hop fields.

Walker reported that the Park street bridge will soon be painted under authorization of Congressman J. R. Knowland, who said the bridge was getting rusty.

WANT FIVE-CENT FARE.

A communication from the Elmhurst Realty Board of Trade asking for aid from the Merchants' Exchange in securing a 5-cent fare instead of a 10-cent fare from Elmhurst to Oakland, passed up to the annexation committee for consideration. The substance of the letter is as follows:

"The residents of the territory lying between Melrose and the southern boundary of the town of Elmhurst feel that the time has arrived when the discrimination in the rate of fare as exists at the present time and as has existed for a long period of time between Elmhurst and Fitchburg and other suburban districts, should be adjusted on an equitable basis.

"To endeavor to secure a reduction from a 10-cent fare as is now charged by the Oakland Traction Company to a straight 5-cent fare, which we think that by reason of our largely increased population and the fact that the travel in consequence of our now thickly populated and continuous residential districts puts us on an equal footing with the other outlying districts. We have organized a Realty Board of Trade for the purpose of taking up this very important matter in a thorough and systematic manner, believing that we are only asking that to which we are entitled.

SEEK CO-OPERATION.

"As the city of Oakland depends largely upon the outlying districts for the success of its business enterprises we would ask that your most influential body co-operate with us and lend your influence and strength to assist in obtaining the one thing that we need for the development and growth of our locality. As to the means or methods whereby your organization can best assist us in our endeavor, we feel that you can best consider the plan of procedure to be adopted by yourselves."

Director Theodore Gier extended a cordial invitation to all the members of the Exchange to be his guests September 1, at his vineyard in Napa.

STUDENT DOES VALUABLE WORK FOR GOVERNMENT

GATHERS DATA OF SHIPPING

Coast, Bay and River Ports Scoured for Statistics.

J. M. BURKE.

BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—J. M. Burke, president of the Associated Students of the University, has just completed the work, he began for the government last June, when he undertook the task of collecting statistics of the shipping industry of the coast for the Department of Commerce and Labor.

Burke is one of the clever men of the campus, and was regarded by the authorities as well qualified for the task of getting together a mass of valuable data regarding the shipping industry.

He traveled up and down the coast, and up the bay as well, taking in all river ports, gleaning figures and facts that had bearing on his subject. He has filed these with the authorities at Washington and is now in college again, presiding over the destinies of the Associated Students.

800 VOLUMES BY FACULTY

Professor W. A. Merritt Publishes Book on Which He Worked 16 Years.

BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—University professors who write books are becoming so common at the University that ere long the library shelves are likely to groan with the weight of their products. In the University library are eight shelves of books written by members of the faculty since the University has been founded, and on each shelf there are more than a hundred volumes.

A number of the prominent educators are now engaged in writing books, and in the past week five or more volumes have come from publishing houses in various parts of the country, these being the product of the leisure time of members of the faculty.

Professor Henry Morse Stephens is engaged upon his history of the earthquake. It will be a work of probably three volumes This will make a unique addition to the many historical volumes already to the credit of this eminent Oxford man.

Professor Bernard Moses has about completed another volume of the history of the Spanish-American republics of South America.

Professor W. A. Merritt a few days ago received a volume from an Eastern publishing house on Latin poetry of the time of Lucretius. Professor Merritt was engaged on this book for sixteen years. He is receiving the congratulations of his associates upon the completion of the volume.

Dr Carliss Brasby has also received a volume from an Eastern house, it being his book on Spanish literature. This will be used as a text book in higher institutions of learning.

Hugo De Vries, who was a member of the summer school at the University, although occupying a high position in the University of Brussels, has recently sent to the University of California his volume on "Plant Breeding," an exhaustive exposition of the Burbank idea.

"LEGLESS CHAIR" FOR GREEK THEATER SEATS

BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—Tired backs in the Greek Theater are to be a thing of the past hereafter, according to Walter Gompertz, who has perfected a chair which he is confident will solve the problem. It consists of a slat bottom affair without legs, which is raised about two inches from the stone seats. It has a back which is supported by a brace and can be inclined at any angle to suit the comfort of the one who uses it. The whole is made of Oregon pine and is very light, weighing less than eight pounds. No cushions are required and those who have tried the contrivance say they experience much more comfort in the chair than sitting on cushions in the Greek Theater.

ISSUE ORDERS TO 'FRESHIES'

Sophomores Post Notice Regulating "Intrants," Clothes and Manners While on Campus.

BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—Following the usual custom, the sophomores have issued a circular warning the freshmen against taking certain liberties, to which several new restrictions have been added. Copies of the pamphlet were this morning pasted on all of the buildings on the campus.

The warning takes the form of the ten commandments and is as follows:

"Whereas, You, the irresponsible, untutored, unsophisticated, unsightly, unendurable verdant toad-stools, numbered in the University as 'Exhibit 11,' have been passed off on this long-suffering University,

"Therefore, Take deeply to your palpitating and fear-stricken hearts the following ten commandants:

ORDERS GIVEN.

"1. Thou shalt not wear as headgear any form, shape or manner of cap, except that insignificant combination of blue pan-cake and gold button known as a postage stamp

"2. Thou shalt not reef thy 'panties.'

"3. Thou shalt not smoke a pipe upon the campus.

"4. Thou shalt shift thy unsightly carcases whenever a sombrero bears in sight.

"5. Thou shalt not wear a sombrero or any likeness thereof

MUST CARRY WOOD.

"6. Thou shalt religiously pack as much wood to all rallies as thy puny muscles can uphold.

"7. Thou shalt not pose as a 'Queener.'

"8. Thou shalt not desecrate North Hall steps with thy presence.

"9. Thou shalt discard all 'prep' pins and other insignia significent of thy childhood days

"10. Thou shalt live in most reverential awe and undiluted admiration of thy peers, the all powerful and illustrious class of 1910."

"SAM'L O'POSEN" ENDS CASE OUT OF COURT

The search warrant proceedings instituted by C. Bernhard, representing the Point Richmond Opera company, against M. B. Curtis, the actor, who became famous in the title role of "Sam'l o' Posen," were dismissed in the Police court this morning by consent of both parties.

Curtis was formerly employed as advestising manager for the Opera house and he made a number of contracts with business men for advertising space on the theater curtain. Some time ago, owing to a disagreement with the management, Curtis severed his connection with the company and refused to turn over to them the contracts which he had secured, claiming that they were made out in his name and belonged to him. The search warrant was sworn out to compel him to turn over the contracts. After a consultation between Curtis and his former employers a settlement was agreed upon outside of court, and the dismissal of the legal proceedings followed this morning.

TO DEMAND PENSION FUND FOR POLICE

ALAMEDA, Aug. 21.—Attorney A. F. St. Sure will appear before the council at the next meeting to have that body place in operation in this city the section of the statutes which provides that a pension fund shall be a part of the police department of every city above the third class.

Some time ago an effort was made to have the city trustees conform to the law, but St. Sure was told to wait for a short time and his request would be granted. The state law provides that the pension fund must be allowed on demand of the police chief and the members of the police force This demand will be made at the next meeting.

ALLEGED THIEVES OF AUTO TO FACE TRIAL

W. J. Poole, an automobile dealer at 402 Twelfth street, swore to a complaint this morning, charging Joe Smith, Louis Nagle, Frank Tyree and Herbert Logan, with grand larceny. The four men were arrested last week for the theft of Poole's automobile, which was stolen from in front of the Hoffman cafe, at Seventh and Broadway on the night of July 29, the machine was driven out to a ranch near Martinez, where it was left for several days. The thieves then took it away and were preparing to ship it to Sacramento, when the local police discovered its whereabouts. The accused men will be arraigned in the police court tomorrow.

COMPLAINANT PROVED TO BE THE AGGRESSOR

Oscar Sellers, who swore to a complaint against J. J. Smith for assault with a deadly weapon, proved to be the aggressor in the action, according to the testimony given in Judge Quinn's court this morning. In rendering the verdict the justice stated that no jury could convict a man who was on the defensive in an assault with a deadly weapon. Justice of the Peace Quinn dismissed Smith, who was arrested by Constable Hempstead, August 15. The bail of $2000 was exonerated.

TO NAME DIRECTORS.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 21.—The committee on organization of the Fifty Thousand Club will meet on Thursday night, when the directors of the organization will be named. The meeting will be held in the city hall.

MARTIN SORE OVER CONTRACT

Tries to Knock Sanitary Machine but Fails to Make Impression.

Joseph Martin, the former street sweeping contractor, appeared before the Board of Public Works this morning to report that the new contractor had not performed the work required to be done by him nightly. It was the new contractor's first night. Martin said the new contractor had two machines working, but out of the 12,000 lineal feet which should have been swept, only 6975 lineal feet were actually cleaned. The streets swept, or partially swept, were Webster street from Eleventh to Twelfth, Harrison street from Eleventh to Twelfth; East Twelfth street from First avenue to Thirteenth avenue, and Twelfth street from Franklin street to Oak.

Martin is very sore because the sanitary machine got the new contract. In a few nights the new machine will do twenty times the work of Martin's dirty machines. There is no doubt of the value of the new machine.

Deputy Street Superintendent Lew J. McCarthy testified that he had driven over the territory with Martin this morning, and that it did not appear to him that any of the streets which ought to have been swept had been cleaned, except those named above.

Commissioners Turner and McElroy both expressed themselves emphatically that the streets must be swept as scheduled and that if it is not done, and done rightly, the board will not pay the bills.

There will be no further mix-up over the new machines. They are now working perfectly and every street will be swept tonight.

Secretary Fawcett was directed to investigate the conditions, and if the streets were not swept as they should have been done, why the contractor had failed.

The Board of Public Works was late in coming to order, Commissioners McElroy and Turner only being in attendance, the Mayor being temporarily absent from the city. Commissioner Turner presided.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the Superintendent of Streets to make new connections for those sewers draining into the Market, Forty-fifth and West Grove streets intercepting sewer.

STORM SEWER.

The concrete storm sewer on Adeline from Temescal creek to the north line of the city was accepted. This is the third bond sewer to be completed. The contractor released by the board's acceptance of the work is the Contra Costa Construction Company.

A report was filed from Secretary Fawcett to the effect that the fires started in the Twelfth street dumps were extinguished on August 19.

Louis L. Storer was granted permission to remove trees on Webster street and also on Twentieth street. W. A. Towns was also granted permission to remove a tree in front of 956 Castro street.

NEW CLERK RECOMMENDED.

City Electrician Babcock filed the following communication with the Board of Works:

"Since the new building ordinance went into effect the work in this office has more than doubled, and I am unable to keep up with it and attend to the outside business of the department. It is necessary that some one be in the office during business hours to answer the telephone's innumerable questions and keep the business of the electrical department from getting into confusion. I have been endeavoring to do this, with poor success, for the last two weeks and find that other branches of this department are suffering in consequence. I therefore find it necessary to appeal to the board for assistance."

The application was referred to the Council with the recommendation that a clerk be appointed at a salary of $100 per month.

SUGGESTS DAY WORK.

The question of constructing culverts by day labor instead of by advertising for contracts was brought up by Commissioner Turner, who reported that an ordinance was now in the course of passage in the Council providing for the construction under contract of a concrete culvert on West street under Temescal creek, and he wanted to know whether it would not be advisable to recommend that it be done under day work, as contractors were getting very high prices now for their work and it was, moreover, desirable to expedite the West street sewer before the winter set in. The matter was continued for further consideration tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, until which time the board adjourned.

FRANCE ALARMED AT MOROCCAN SITUATION

TANGIERS, Aug. 21.—It is reported that the Sultan's troops were again defeated by a great force of Knass tribesmen in whose territory Caid MacLean is held captive. Six hundred Moors were killed.

PARIS, Aug. 21.—The Moroccan situation is regarded as distinctly more serious. The proclamation of the new Sultan, interior ferments and the appearance of a new Moorish army at Casa Blanca cause apprehension that the country will soon be ablaze with fanaticism.

Over one thousand infantry and cavalry are mobilized at Oran, ready to embark at once to Morocco. The newspapers urge a military expedition to Fez, but the government is unwilling thus to go beyond the limits of the Algeciras convention. Even officials, however, admit eventualities might compel France, in the name of the powers, to chastise Morocco.

THOMAS RECOMMENDED AND THE BERKELEY FIGHT IS OVER

Postmaster-to-Be Is Endorsed by Business Men, and Pledges Whole Time to Duties.

With the recommendation that Charles E. Thomas be appointed postmaster of Berkeley, sent to Washington by Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, the fight which has been raging for the past few days in the University Town is ended.

Thomas, who has long resided in Berkeley, and who is a graduate of the University, is endorsed by the business men, and declares that he will devote his entire time to the duties of the office, if appointed, and will sever all of his other business connections.

OPPOSITION WITHDRAWN.

Although President Wheeler of the University opposed the appointment, and even as late as yesterday issued a statement to that effect, it is now believed that, in view of the endorsement by the business community and pledges of Thomas to pay undeviating attention to the duties of the office, he will withdraw all opposition.

WHEELER'S STATEMENT.

President Wheeler said yesterday:

"I have abstained from making any statement concerning the Berkeley postoffice, though I see that the movement of the citizens and the University against the appointment of Mr. Thomas has in general been labeled with my name. I am willing it should be. I am opposed to having our office postmaster used for the maintenance of a political agent. The University is gravely interested in having the mail well collected, forwarded and distributed; that is what a postoffice is for. We have suffered in silence long enough. We have done wrong in not protesting before, but now that there is a vacancy we make a protest and ask that we have a postmaster appointed who will conceive of his task as a business matter. In making such an appointment no one has a right to take the public money appropriated for postoffice salaries and use it for the employment of a man who shall serve his private interests. The postoffice exists for the good of the people, of all factions and parties, and in that sense the people of Berkeley are now making themselves heard."

RECOMMENDS THOMAS.

Following is the statement of Congressman J. R. Knowland:

"After due deliberation I have recommended Charles E. Thomas for postmaster at Berkeley and Senator Perkins has joined in the recommendation. I am convinced that Mr. Thomas possesses the requisite executive ability and will devote his best energies toward maintaining the office at high standard of efficiency, otherwise his name would not have been considered. Mr. Thomas is a graduate of the State University No stronger evidence of his standing at home need be cited than to recall that at a primary election held in Berkeley a year ago seventy of the most prominent citizens of that city were elected as delegates to the Republican county convention pledged to advocate the claims of Mr. Thomas for one of the most important offices in this county—an office requiring the greatest executive ability In that delegation were business and professional men, including a number of professors of the University of California, if my memory serves me. At the primary election there was not a protest voiced. Looking over the list of gentlemen composing that delegation I cannot conceive that any one of them would have thus indorsed Mr. Thomas had they considered him unfit for that responsible office.

"It is an understanding between the senators of California and the congressional delegation that the recommendation for postmaster shall be made by the congressman in whose district the position is to be filled. This course has been followed in this instance. I take it for granted that the recommendation which was telegraphed to Washington today will receive the usual recognition."

WILL PERFORM DUTY WELL.

"I am profoundly grateful to Senator Perkins and Congressman Knowland for the confidence they have reposed in me by recommending my appointment as postmaster," said Charles E. Thomas. "I shall endeavor to merit that confidence and the continued good opinion of the people of Berkeley, who have been kind to me in the past and for whom I feel a warm and grateful attachment

"If I am appointed it will be my aim to give Berkeley the best postal service possible. I shall sever all my business connections in order that I may devote my entire time and attention to the duties of the office. My best efforts will be given to raising the standard of efficiency to the highest excellence and removing every cause of complaint.

TO GIVE MODEL SERVICE.

"The University City of California is entitled to postal facilities equal to the best in the country. It will be my pride and ambition to give it a model service The State University, which is my alma mater, has my loyal affection and I shall esteem it a high honor to prove that one of her sons is worthy of a public trust, the responsibilities of which I feel extremely sensible The spirit of that noble institution, which is Berkeley's chief pride and glory will actuate me and spur me to justify the hope and expectation of the public and the distinguished gentlemen who have recommended me to the President for appointment I propose, if appointed, as I expect to be, to make the administration of the office a strictly business one."

WANTS RAILWAY THROUGH TUNNEL TO WALNUT CREEK

MARTINEZ, Aug. 21.—At the last meeting of the Supervisors, A. W. Maltby, a Concord capitalist, presented a petition asking for the privilege of constructing an electric railway through the tunnel on the Contra Costa side, and thence to Walnut Creek and the Ygnacio valley.

Maltby stated that he had found it impossible to interest capital in the project until all the preliminary work had been accomplished, such as making surveys, securing right of way, and so on. In view of this requirement he had secured a complete survey between the tunnel and Walnut Creek and now seeks the necessary sanction of the Supervisors to complete the preliminary steps required by capital.

Maltby stated confidently that there would be no difficulty in securing funds to put the enterprise through at once. He had been east recently and would leave for New York again the 29th inst., and wanted to have all necessary documents to take with him. The matter was passed up to District Attorney H. V. Alvarado for an opinion as to whether the right to build such a road would have to go through the regular routine of franchise granting. A report will be delivered to the board at a special meeting to be held on Monday.

County Surveyor E. C. Brown submitted a survey map of the proposed Mt. Diablo summit road and filed his report, including estimated cost of the same, which he placed at $50,000.

SIGNS JOAQUIN MILLER'S NAME TO OBSCENE POEM

It is possible that J. F. Upson, the Fresno dive-owner, who is under arrest for publishing an obscene booklet attacking Mayor Lyon of Fresno, has permitted his vindictiveness and depraved imagination to make him liable to several new libel charges. Among other disgusting compositions in the book are several indescribably obscene "poems," which bear the signatures of Tennyson, Robert Burns, The Duchess, Longfellow and Joaquin Miller. These verses are all written in an attempt to villify Mayor Lyon.

Although it is not anticipated that any action will be taken against Upson by the descendants of the first named four writers, it is quite probable that the poet of the Sierras, who is near at hand and apparently very much alive, may feel inclined to prosecute Upson for publishing his name in such a connection, particularly if he takes the pains to read the verses which are ascribed to him.

Several copies of the book, which were recovered from a safe deposit box in the Union Trust Company's vaults in San Francisco, where they had been hidden by Upson, are now in possession of the police, and the ex-gambler's conviction on both complaints sworn to by Mayor Lyon seems assured.

NATURE FAKER GETS ANOTHER

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Another attack on "Nature Fakers" is made by President Roosevelt in the September number of Everybody's Magazine, advance copies of which have just been issued. The article is signed by the President and is even more severe in tone than his earlier contribution on the same subject which appeared as an interview.

Adopting a phrase from his friend John Burroughs, the President designates as "Yellow Journalists of the Wood" those who write for children and grown-ups stories that are misleading in character, so far as they purport to give an accurate picture of the habits and traits of wild animals.

SCORE W. J. LONG.

William J. Long, author of many books that have found their way into school rooms, is singled out as the special object of attack, and the President pays his respects to other writers of the same character, whose work has aroused his ire. On the other hand, he pays high tribute to the labors of such scientists as Burroughs, John Muir, Stewart Edward White, Frederick Remington, Olive Thorne Miller, Hart Merriam, William Hornaday, Frank Chapman, Joel Allen, Ernest Ingersoll, Witmer Stone, William Cram and George Shiras.

"The surest way to neutralize the work of these lovers of truth and nature, of truth in nature study, is to encourage those whose work shows neither knowledge of nature nor love of truth," says the President.

The President furnishes strong proof to impeach the reliability of Dr. Long, who, in his viewpoint, outrivals the mendacious De Rougemont, who startled London some years ago with tales of his weird mythical life in some outlandish countries.

FEDERATION OF LABOR ALLEGES CONSPIRACY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—President Gompers said today that the American Federation of Labor will probably sue the National Manufacturers' Association on a charge of conspiracy in beginning a "concerted effort for injuring organized labor."

WILL LAY OUT DEFENSE AREAS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. — Brigadier General Murray, chief of artillery, and Commander Spencer Wood of the navy, started today for the Pacific Coast, where they will lay out so-called defense sea areas, similar to those established on the Atlantic Coast. They will visit Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and San Diego.

BIDS FAREWELL.

While the city chain gang was filling in the new park site at the head of Lake Merritt near Perry street this afternoon, J. M. Loughlin, finding himself unobserved for a moment or two, took to his heels and made his escape. Loughlin was arrested on May 18 and sentenced to serve six months in the city prison on a charge of vagrancy.

Previous to his arrest on this charge, he had pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a diamond, but was admitted to probation by the judge Detectives have been sent out to discover Loughlin's present whereabouts. The police expect to recapture him before night.

Judge Dole Declares New Naturalization Rules Does Not Repeal Former.

HONOLULU, Aug. 14., via San Francisco, Aug. 21.—Judge Sanford P. Dole of the United States Court has decided that the new naturalization law of June 29, 1906, does not repeal the section of the act creating the territory of Hawaii, which provides that aliens residing in the Hawaiian Islands for five years previous to the passage of the act creating the territory of Hawaii, may be naturalized without previous declaration of intention to become citizens. The decision was rendered in the application of George Rodiek to become a citizen without making previous declaration of intention. The application was resisted by the United States attorney on behalf of the department of commerce and labor.

He has just received a reply, in which the attorney-general states that the natives referred to cannot be classed as white people and therefore are ineligible to become citizens of the United States.

LAUNDRY SMOKESTACK TOO SHORT; SOOT IS NUISANCE

Neighbors Bitterly Complain to Board of Fire Commissioners Over Damage to Carpets and Curtains.

The Board of Police and Fire Commissioners held a brief session this morning. P. Lafau, proprietor of the Piedmont laundry, located on Sycamore street, between San Pablo avenue and Grove street, had been summoned to answer a charge of maintaining a nuisance, lodged against him by residents in the neighborhood of his establishment. The complainants were Frank T. Titus, Edwin C. Rice, Walter Hollis, owners of property in the neighborhood of the laundry, and John Conant, owner of the Palms Inn.

Mr. and Mrs Lafau were present.

Mr. Titus said the nuisance was long standing. At first the laundry burned coal and complaints were made, which the proprietors of the laundry met by changing the fuel used to oil, and that made matters worse. They promised two weeks ago to abate the nuisance, but instead of that it is worse than ever and the soot and smoke is unbearable.

Mr. Rice said that the smoke and soot was largely composed of unconsumed oil. "It has ruined all of the carpets in my home. Ten day ago my curtains were hung after being laundried at a cost of $35, and they are ready for the laundry again. The other day the window of the bathroom was temporarily left open and we gathered up a handful of oily soot in the bath tub as the result," he added.

Commissioner McElroy showed the difficulty of suppressing this class of nuisances by citing an East Oakland case where three different juries had acquitted the one accused of maintaing the nuisance. "With such an experience as that before us," said Turner, "the maintenance of the nuisance becomes due to the inaction of the citizens themselves."

It developed, however, that the offending smokestack was not as high as required by law, and the matter was referred to the chief of police and fire chief to see that such changes were made in the stack and the oil burners of the furnaces as would comply with the law and abate the nuisance.

FENDERLESS CARS STOPPED

Los Angeles Manager and Employes Arrested by Squad of Police.

LOS ANGELES, Aug 21.—Traffic on most of the main lines of the great Huntington Pacific Electric Railway system was tied up for half an hour this morning and Manager Joseph McMillan and four motormen and conductors of the company were arrested, because of the failure of the company to obey the order of Justice Frederickson last Monday, directing the corporation to comply with the fender ordinances of the city.

Manager McMillan was convicted in the police court on that date of a violation of the fender ordinances. Today at 11 o'clock Deputy District Attorney Fleming, with a squad of policemen, appeared at the corner of Fifth and Main streets almost in the heart of the business district, and arrested the motorman and conductor of the first car that appeared without the proper fender. Four successive cars were thus halted and the employes arrested Traffic was blocked for a long distance. Manager McMillan appeared on the scene and was also arrested All were released upon bail of $100, each to appear in Justice Rose's court tomorrow Traffic on Main street was resumed after half an hour.

TOUGHS FIRE ON CAR CREW

Firearms, Stones and Epithets Figure in Night Attack by Hoodlums.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Considerable trouble has been occurring nightly in the Mission district between gangs of hoodlums and non-union operators of the cars of the United Railroads. Thus far the trouble has been confined largely to rock throwing and the hurling of vile epithets, but last night the toughs became bolder and eight shots were fired at two Mission-street cars about 11 o'clock.

SHOTS AHEAD.

A Mission and Ingleside car was traveling east on Mission street shortly before midnight when Motorman George Sharpe heard two quick reports and saw two flashes about a block ahead of him where a car was traveling in the opposite direction. He called to Daniel Reynolds, his conductor, and warned him they must be careful in passing that point.

The car proceeded slowly, the conductor remaining inside. Just as they arrived opposite the gang a rock was thrown through the window and two shots were fired, one of which passed through the pocket in the coat of the motorman and another grazed feathers in the hat of a woman passenger.

CREW RETURNS FIRE.

Three more shots were fired from the crowd before Conductor Reynolds took a hand in the game. He drew his revolver and fired three shots, none of which took effect so far as known. The motorman also fired one shot, but this did no damage.

In Judge Weller's court this morning Attorney O'Connor, for the United Railroads, called the attention of the judge to the fact that while the two men were arrested for discharging firearms within the city limits, there had been no arrests of the hoodlums who began the trouble.

The judge took this into consideration in dismissing the case.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her; now, why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

TAFT IN KENTUCKY.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 21.—Secretary Taft, after a quiet day at his brothers' home, proceeded this afternoon to Lexington, Ky., where he is to speak tomorrow.

ELEGANT NEW AND MODERN APARTMENTS

One of the most up-to-date apartments for bachelors and the only exclusive one in Oakland, with every possible convenience is "The Bachelors' " at 546 Thirty-third street.

The structure has just been completed and is nicely furnished throughout. Every room having a stationery washstand enclosed in a closet and warm water is secured by the instantaneous or crescent process. Altogether "The Bachelors' " is ideal in all detail, and no doubt the rooms will be eagerly sought after, which will be rented at very reasonable prices.

Baby won't suffer five minutes with croup if you apply Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil at once. It acts like magic.

Educate Yourself

In the mode of buying. Would you rather purchase your piano from a strictly one price house where nothing but cash prices are given or would you rather be the MR. EASY MARK and purchase at a so-called special sale where possibly a cheap piano that you might have to pay $300 for at the one price store is marked down from $700 to we will say $347.50.

We will admit that by purchasing from us you do not get that discount of $352.50 on this $300 piano, for in this case we would have to pay you $52.50 to take the instrument, or possibly you may be one of the tens of thousands who are holding trade certificates ranging from $50 to $200, which trade certificates have been given in guessing and many other kinds of contests by local firms. For example, we will say that persons being able to name the capitals of each of the United States will be entitled to a hundred dollar credit certificate in which case there will be a first prize, a second and a third, etc., and the house that gives this contest will issue possibly a thousand second prize certificates, three thousand third prize certificates, six thousand fourth prize certificates, etc. Lots of money given away, isn't it, but the great drawback to this system of business is that the purchaser who pays cash is unable to get his just deserts for the house that has thousands upon thousands of these trade certificates out against them does not dare to make a close price on a piano for fear you may have a trade certificate in your pocket, which you will demand them to accept.

Purchase your piano at a one price store where your patronage will be appreciated, and no false representations are made.

ONE FIRM

out of a horde of fruit and vegetable packers in the Eastern States contends that preservatives are not essential to the food preserving industry, while all the others maintain that the new law, if strictly enforced, will put them out of business. But one big firm with a big reputation for putting up sound fruit can prove its position for all the rest. It's only a question of using sound fruit. Sound fruits, like sound women, need no preservatives. Perhaps it's better, when you can, to use fresh fruits only, as Lehnhardt does. Pure fruits or juices expressed from sound selected fruit of undoubted flavor—that's what Lehn uses at the soda counter and in his ice cream flavors.

CUPID WINS

and no one else in the store had a chance to wait on her. Before she left her eyes had done their work and Bubar was her slave. She thought that she was impervious to any funny feeling in the heart, for there was Jay McCabe, who had just kissed her good-bye in San Jose, but she looked upon Bubar again and she was gone. She forgot McCabe as if he had never been.

Bubar, happy Bubar—for a month. And then Doll went back to San Jose. Jay McCabe met her at the station, kissed his affianced bride, and where was the memory of Bubar?

BEGS HIM TO MARRY.

Long before Bubar came into existence—at least he says his existence dates from his meeting with pretty Doll—Jay McCabe presented the pretty girl to his father and mother and they begged him to marry her. Jay smiled. Funny idea, to beg him to marry her. He already had her consent. Happy Jay, happy in ignorance of what was going on at Salinas. No evil tongue brought him word of Bubar.

She was back in San Jose again, Salinas forgotten, but it was arranged that they should marry in her new home, Salinas, August 17, last Saturday.

The bridal party went to Salinas together, Dorothy Nell, her mother and Jay McCabe—back to Salinas, where Bubar waited.

NOT FAINT-HEARTED.

Who can tell what was in Dolly's heart? Bubar was no faint-hearted swain, that is certain. She saw him, and on Friday afternoon, the day before her wedding date, she sat down to her desk and wrote a pretty note, biting the end of her pen while she got inspiration for expressions.

"Oh, mother, I am so busy with all these things," she said when she finished. "And you have not been out all day. Won't you take this to Jay to the hotel? I know it is asking a lot of my dear old mumsy, but do, please!"

Could her mother resist that smile? But when Jay read the note he seized his future mother-in-law by the arm and rushed her out of the hotel toward her house, his face sickly green.

BUYING LICENSE.

Bubar was not selling baby ribbon that day. He was buying a marriage license, and when he had it he swept his pretty Dolly off in an automobile to the house of Rev. O. L. Russell, the Methodist minister, and tied a double bow knot of a marriage, and then sped through the town on the way to Del Monte. At the corner by the hotel, with his happy bride by his side, he left standing, staring through the dust, Dolly's mother and Jay McCabe.

McCabe's father and mother regret that Dolly acted as she did. They cannot see why she did not marry Jay.

VOLUMINOUS RECORD IS HEARD AT GLASS TRIAL

Entire Morning Consumed in Laying Bare Minutes of Telephone Company---Points Favor Defense.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The Glass trial was resumed this morning with Secretary Eaton on the witness stand reading from the minutes of the meeting of the board of directors of the telephone company.

There are points in these minutes which tend to establish the case of the prosecution in showing Glass' responsibility in the telephone company. Delmas insists in the reading of the entire proceedings of each board meeting, which is making a tedious affair of the trial at present.

The entire morning session of the trial was occupied with reading these minutes. The only point called to special attention was an inquiry from the defense as to whether certain resolutions read "president and vice president," or "president or vice president" The fact that the latter proved to be the case was to the satisfaction of the defense. It will be used as tending to show the responsibility of President Scott and casting doubt on that of Vice President Glass

S. P. OFFICER BURKE ON TRIAL

Preliminary Examination of Policeman Charged With Slaying Dumas Begins.

The preliminary examination of John C. Burke, a Southern Pacific policeman, for the murder of T. A. Dumas, a switchman in the West Oakland yards on August 13, was begun before Police Judge Samuels this morning. Attorneys Kelly and O'Brien were sent by the Southern Pacific Company to conduct the defense of Burke.

Judge Frick, representing the Switchman's Union, and Prosecuting Attorney Decoto appeared for the prosecution.

The first witness called was Dr. Reinle, who performed the autopsy upon Dumas' body at the Morgue on the day of the shooting. Dr. Reinle said that the charred condition of the dead man's clothing about the place where the bullet entered showed that the shot had been fired at short range. Just how short he was unable to say. The Southern Pacific attorneys subjected the physician to a very minute cross-examination, and required him to explain just how he knew that a pistol shot fired into the body of a man at close range would burn or char his clothing.

REVOLVER SHOWN.

Sergeant of Police Bock, who arrested Burke after he shot Dumas, was the next witness called. He produced a revolver which was given to him by Burke when he was placed under arrest, with the assertion that it was the gun with which he had done the shooting. The revolver was introduced as evidence.

Ray Beavers, a telephone operator in Tower 7 in the West Oakland yards was next called. He was the only eye-witness to the struggle between Burke and Dumas. Beaver's story was a repetition of the testimony he gave at the coroner's inquest. He declared that he had become alarmed at the struggle and ran out of the room before the fatal shot was fired.

Guarantees Against Indictment.

District Attorney Langdon is exerting all his power and influence to prevent the grand jury from investigating the so-called immunity contracts given the members of the San Francisco boodling ring. The wording of the immunity contract given James L. Gallagher shows that the District Attorney not only guaranteed that Gallagher should not be prosecuted or complained against, but that he should not be indicted.

In other words, Mr. Langdon attempted to bind the Grand Jury to the terms of his bargain with the grafters.

He assumed to be able to control the actions of the grand jury and limit the powers of that body. Was his assumption correct? If the Grand Jury is really under the control and direction of the District Attorney's office the fact is of deep significance. If not, it is manifestly the duty of that body to assert its independence and repudiate the shameless dicker by which the whole band of grafters were to be relieved of all legal penalty for their crimes.

Only a few days ago a grand jury in Texas returned an indictment for murder against the judge who summoned it. Two previous grand juries had ignored presentments against the judge, but the third vindicated its integrity and independence by returning a true bill. The example is not without significance to the San Francisco body.

The Compounding of Felonies.

California has a statute in force which strictly forbids the compounding of felonies and imposes a severe penalty on the compounder. Until Heney came to the front as the special attorney in the so-called "graft cases," backed by Spring Valley and a line of associates influenced by mercenary and political motives, no public prosecutor had ever ventured to openly compromise himself by entering into a compact with any confederate in the crime which would grant him immunity against prosecution and the penalty of the offense in consideration of the testimony to be given against the principal on trial. The lawgivers recognized the fact that the toleration of such a practice would be opening the door for the grossest kind of perjury and branded the proposition as a criminal offense equal to the original. It has, therefore, been the uniform practice in all cases antedating the graft prosecutions in San Francisco to disclaim any prearrangement granting immunity to the witness confederated in the crime, for the simple reason that, if confessed, the court would instruct the jury to disregard the evidence thus procured and direct the Grand Jury to proceed against the public prosecutor compounding the felony.

But in the San Francisco graft cases the compounding of the felonies alleged to have been committed has been brazenly committed under the color of an obscure Texas decision which inferentially countenanced the granting of immunity to one criminal in consideration of his giving testimony which would convict a pal of the offense committed as the principal in the act. Texas is the only State in the Union which furnished such a precedent in criminal jurisprudence, and, outside of this particular case, it has ranked as a lawless frontier State whose judicial decisions had to be accepted with extreme caution.

The statute making a penal offense of the compounding of felonies is a good one Nothing short of the intimidating of a community, as San Francisco has been intimidated, could have tolerated such a compounding of felonies as has been committed under, for what anybody now knows to the contrary, agencies quite as corrupt as those employed by those against whom the crusade has been carried. The cowed public conscience has lost sight of the statute penalizing the compounding of felonies and the commission of graver crimes, such as the conviction under moral duress of those prosecuted for political reasons in such a way and under such circumstances as to lead even the Supreme Court in its decision confirming Mayor Taylor's de jure title to the office to suggest the possibility of injustice in the methods employed to secure the conviction of Mayor Schmitz of the crime of felony.

The compounding of felonies through the process of granting immunity from prosecution to confederates in the crimes charged has, however, reached a stage which California and the country at large will later on repent, probably in sackcloth and ashes, when reaction sets in, for the Federal government is already being embarrassed by the precedent which has been unwisely countenanced in its crusade against the trusts and combinations formed to restrain trade The law against the compounding of felonies should be strictly enforced, not suspended, for evidence enough has been adduced in more than one case where compounding was resorted to to prove that the suggestion, at least of perjury, was associated with some of them.

Alabama has a law which provides for the selection of an alternate to take the place of a United States Senator-elect in the event of death ensuing to the latter before the end of his term. It has worked admirably in two instances within a few weeks of each other—first, after the death of Senator Morgan and later after the demise of Senator Pettus. In both cases the Legislature regularly elected to the vacancy the alternate previously chosen. The system has the merit of taking the vacant Senatorial seat out of the hands of the Governor, who in other States has the right to appoint any one he chooses to serve as the successor of the dead Senator until the Legislature convenes in regular session, and it puts a stop to wire-pulling and partisan contention.

The financial credit of Boston is infinitely lower than that of Oakland. Less than two weeks ago the bids for a bond issue of $3,924,000 4 percents were opened and it was found that only $200,000 of the issue was wanted by investors in such securities. Oakland had no trouble in selling the park bonds to local banks at a slight premium. But Oakland is a city which is growing fast, has a comparatively light debt, all of which has been invested in public works, is progressive and has the brightest future opening before it of any city on the Pacific Coast, and bond buyers have unbounded confidence in its financial integrity.

If you want to have a good time and incidentally see a live town, go to Santa Cruz. That little seaside city is improving at a wonderful rate, and is destined to become one of the great popular health and pleasure resorts of the world. It has already taken primacy on the Pacific Coast, and will inevitably take rank with Newport and Atlantic City. Fortunately the people of Santa Cruz have developed a united public spirit and accepted a progressive leadership that is pushing improvement and making the city celebrated for its many attractions.

The energy which the Western Pacific engineers are displaying in the construction of the line in this State is shown by the fact that tracklaying on the section between Stockton and the Mokelumne river crossing has been finished ten days ahead of time.

INDICTED OFFICIALS GET MORE DELAY IN COURT

Lawlor Takes Up Motion to Set Aside Indictments and Continues Hearing at Attorney's Request.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Judge Lawlor opened court at 9:30 this morning to take up the motions of the various defendants in the graft cases asking for dismissal of indictments. Attorneys for the defendants were present, ex-Mayor Schmitz, and Abraham Ruef being the only principals in court. Attorney Earl Rogers, representing Patrick Calhoun, was spokesman for the defense.

Rogers made request for a delay, in order, he said, that the defendants might be fully advised as to the correction of minutes in Judge Graham's court. Judge Lawlor, who has been postponing his decision for many weeks, was annoyed to find that the minutes were not yet ready. He called Clerk Walter Trefts in to ask him why the work was not done.

"If you please," said Trefts, "there are about forty pages of them."

District Attorney O'Gara made a motion that the submission of the motions be reopened in order to consider the corrected minutes. The order was made.

Judge Lawlor wanted to hasten proceedings and asked if the counsel for the defense would be willing to accept the minutes in documentary form. Rogers replied that it would involve a point which he could not sacrifice for his client.

"Very well," said Judge Lawlor, "the counsel so far has shown no disposition to add to the burdens of the court."

It was one of the first compliments handed down by the bench to the defense in any of the graft cases and was received with much self-congratulation by the attorney.

Judge Lawlor finally ordered that the matter should be taken up tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock

MUCH WORK ORDERED ON SCHOOLS THROUGHOUT CITY

In explanation of the many contract, repair, building and construction matters in the public schools of Oakland, the committee on school houses and sites of the Board of Education made the following report last night, which was adopted:

"The Ingram Hardware Company has the contract for the plumbing on the Washington school, the original contract being for $1507, upon which there has been paid $297.30. Your committee estimates that the work accomplished by the contractor before the earthquake amounts to $600 The labor on this work was entirely destroyed We received a communication from the Ingram Hardware Company agreeing to complete the work for the additional sum of $444, $204 of this being for loss caused by the earthquake, and $240 as part compensation for increase in the cost of labor and materials. There is still due on the original contract $1209 70. This, with the amount of the allowance, will make the cost for the completion of the building $1653 70. Your committee deems the offer of the Ingram Hardware Company reasonable and fair, and has accepted the same subject to your approval

CONTRACT ACCEPTED.

"The Robert Daiziel Jr Company has a contract for the plumbing work of the Prescott school amounting to $1792 About $250 worth of work had been completed on this contract prior to the damage done by the earthquake. Of this amount, $150 is estimated to be a total loss This company has offered to complete the work for $510, in addition to the amount of the original contract, which is $1792, making in all $2302 This will be an allowance of $150 for damage by the earthquake, and $260 for increased cost of materials and labor Your committee consider this offer reasonable, and has accepted the same subject to your approval.

"The Robert Daiziel Jr Company has also a contract of $1897 for the plumbing work of the Lincoln school The company has offered to complete this contract for $2276 40 This is the amount of the original contract, and $379 40 for increased cost of labor and material Your committee considers this offer reasonable, and have accepted the same subject to your approval.

LET CURBING WORK.

"Your committee considered the matter of granite curbing for the frontages of the Longfellow school property, also for the north frontage of the Emerson school property A contract has already been let for the Market street frontage of the Longfellow school property, substituting granite curbing for redwood curb, at the rate of $1 05 per foot for granite The same company now seeks a contract on Apgar street This company offers to substitute a granite curb for redwood curb at the additional price of $1 15 per foot, the granite curbing being standard in every particular. Your committee considers this a reasonable price, and the secretary of the board was authorized to sign a contract, subject to your approval, for the frontage owned by the city for school purposes. Although this matter was referred to your committee with power to act, we ask your approval of the action of the committee

"The company seeking a contract to grade and macadamize the north frontage of the Emerson school offers to substitute granite curbing for redwood for the additional sum of $1 12½ per running foot. Your committee deems this a reasonable price, and the secretary of the board was authorized, subject to your approval, to sign for the property owned by the Board of Education, it being understood that the granite curbing is to be substituted for redwood curbing This matter was referred to your committee with power to act, but we ask your approval of our action.

CURBING OFF GRADE.

"The Board of Education has heretofore placed granite curbing and a sidewalk on Echo avenue on the south frontage of the Piedmont school property Echo avenue is now being graded, and it appears that the grade has been changed from that originally fixed, and that a certain number of feet of the granite curbing and sidewalk (about 60 feet) is now several inches off grade. Your committee authorized the contractors for the grading and guttering of Echo avenue to reset any granite curbing in front of school property that is not on grade.

"It seemed necessary to change the office of the Cole school from the second floor to the first. This change necessitated the changing of a sink and gas stove for the purpose of changing the location of the lunch room in the building. Your committee has ordered the same done, subject to your approval.

"The wiring for an entrance light to the Washington school was omitted from the specifications of the same. Your committee ordered this wiring at an expense of $10.

"Your committee has ordered an old building on the Grant school property, used by the department mechanic as a storage building, removed to the rear of the grounds.

"Your committee has already taken steps to secure competitive estimates for the furnishing of the apparatus for the manual training and commercial high school.

GETS MORE MONEY.

"William Mahedy has a contract for the plastering of the Washington school for $3681. Mahedy considers that he ought to have the sum of $319 in addition to the original contract, on account of increased cost of labor and material, for the completion of this work We deem Mahedy's offer reasonable, and would recommend that the same be accepted.

"Mahedy also has a contract for the plastering of the Lincoln school. In the amended plans and specifications for the construction of this school all interior brick walls have been removed, necessitating the plastering of many square yards of wire lathing instead of brick partitions Mahedy considers that the cost of placing plastering on steel lath, in excess of brick work, will be 25 cents per square yard, and asks that this amount be allowed him for every additional square yard of steel lathing made necessary by the change in the plans and specifications. Your committee deems this a reasonable offer and recommend the acceptance of the same.

WORK ACCEPTED.

"We would recommend the acceptance of the following work, the work having been completed in a satisfactory manner (a) The painting of the Garfield school building by James Cahill & Co for $2708, (b) the painting of the Clawson school building by the same company for the sum of $1495, (c) the repainting of the new Grant school building by the same company for the sum of $350, (d) for the repair of the inside of the Bay school building and the painting of the annex to the Bay school building by Lohman-Jewell-Dewar Co for the sum of $660 88, (e) for the painting of the old Grant school building by the same company for the sum of $385 73

LAND PURCHASED.

"Your committee has closed the contract for the purchase of the land adjoining the Cole school building for the sum of $4500

"Your committee would ask that a requisition be drawn on the Board of Public Works for the cleaning out of a certain heater pipe in, the high school building and for the setting in of clean outs in this same pipe, so that it will not be necessary to again remove the pipe for the purpose of cleaning the same

"M. F Murray, who has the contract for the construction of the heating apparatus of the Harrison school, asks for an extension of time on his contract from August 12 to August 31 inclusive, three weeks. Your committee would recommend that the same be granted.

BUY PORTABLE SCHOOLS.

"In order to accommodate over-crowded classes in the Peralta school, your committee has ordered purchased, subject to your approval, another portable school building of two rooms, the price to be $1250.

"We have also ordered constructed a cheap building at Piedmont school in order to accommodate an overcrowded condition of the classes The estimated cost of this is $450.

"The matter of the grading of Forty-eighth street by private contract was referred to your committee with power to determine whether or not granite curbing should be substituted for wood curbing, for $1 12½ per lineal foot Your committee closed the agreement with the Blake & Bilger Co. for the granite curbing, and authorized the secretary to sign a contract for the grading of the street, in accordance with the terms thereof.

"The same company signed a contract for the grading, macadamizing, guttering and curbing of the street adjoining the Bay school property to the north The same terms can be made with this company for granite curbing as a substitute for the wood curbing, to wit, $1.12½ per lineal foot. We would recommend that the secretary of the board be authorized to sign a private contract for this work.

"The Ransom Construction Company seeks a private contract for the grading, macadamising, guttering and curbing of Apgar street. This company will substitute the granite curbing for the wood curbing, for $1.15 per lineal foot. We would recommend that the secretary be authorized to sign the contract and stipulate for granite curbing."

Wild Doings at Sea Beach Party

Midnight Bath After Champagne Banquet

Auto Full of Revelers Stuck

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Every year, and about this time in the season, bacchanalian Newport begins to become blase of the ordinary rounds of pleasurge, and like a surfeited roue, sets its mind to work to create new sensations for its dulled palate. The monkey dinner having come and gone without evgn the distinction of originality, it fell to the mind of a western bachelor, who has been prying his way into the set with more or less success, to provide a feast which for ribaldness has little parallel—well, even in Newport.

MIDNIGHT BATH.

The bachelor conceived the idea of building a tent on the Second Beach and treating his forty guests to a midnight bath, followed by a jolly supper. A large bonfire had been built on the beach and a colored orchestra was on hand. From here on let your imagination supply the rest, nor limit it up to the time the wine lasted.

Suffice to record the opinion of two sensible newcomers who were among the invited guests, and of the respectable people who occupy cottages in the vicinity, that the conduct of the party bordered on the extreme as the clock advanced.

AUTO STICKS IN MUD.

With the last bottle one of the party suggested a wind-up at the Clambake Club, and—oh! omniscience of the modern press!—from then on we find the feast recorded as a modest dinner dance credited not to the original host but to the guest who made the suggestion. It was between 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning when one automobile party returning from the lively scene became stuck in the soft sand of another beach and had to leave the machine behind them. Among the guests were the host's reputed fiancee, a young grass widow, and several luminaries more or less identified with the coming entertainment of the Prince of Sweden. And yet we are to believe it a dull season at Newport.

WOMAN IN NORTH WATERS GRANTED PILOT'S LICENSE

Only Two Hold Such on Pacific Seaboard

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 21.—Unique in Pacific Coast marine circles was the issuance of second-class pilot's papers to Mrs. Gertrude Wyman, yesterday afternoon, thus giving her the distinction of being the only woman who is permitted to navigate vessels of a certain class in the district between the Columbia river and the Canadian boundary.

Mrs. Wyman, who is the wife of Captain Chauncey Wyman of the steamboat Vashon, appeared before Marine Inspectors Turner and Whitney yesterday and in a modest voice requested that she be allowed to take an examination for pilot's papers. When the inspectors had recovered from their surprise they drew up a list of hard questions. Mrs. Wyman answered them quickly and satisfactorily and Captain Whitney wrote the license.

There are but two women on the entire Pacific seaboard who hold navigators' licenses. Mrs. Fannie Hill of Portland holds a master's license in addition to pilot's papers.

Mrs. Wyman is thoroughly familiar with Sound signals and has made thousands of trips with her husband on the Sound waters. The issuance of the pilot's license to her is the first case of the kind in the history of the local inspectors' office.

CLARK TAKES BRIDE TO THEIR NEW HOME

LOS ANGELES, Aug. [illegible].—W. A. Clark, Jr., son of the former Senator from Montana, will arrive in Los Angeles about September 1, bringing with him his bride of a few weeks and a string of fifteen horses. Clark recently leased the Severance place on West Adams street, and his stable of thoroughbreds will be located there for the winter.

Clark has taken a lease for eighteen months on the place, with the privilege of purchasing it, and will probably make Los Angeles his permanent home. Mrs. Clark is a stranger here, and she will be welcomed by a large circle when she arrives. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were married in Butte, Mont., only a few weeks ago.

SOCIETY GOSSIP

MRS. MARTIN K. METCALF

The marriage of Miss Helen Krauth and Winfield J. Ingram took place last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. H. Krauth, in Alameda and was one of the prettiest events of the month.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Willsie M. Martin of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in the presence of a small company of relatives and intimate friends.

The decorations were pink and green, a bower of amaryllis and palms forming an effective background for the service. Potted plants and tall bamboo added to the picturesque effect, and an orchestra was concealed in a niche of greens.

The bride is an attractive brunette and her gown was white voile over taffeta. She wore a veil caught with a knot of orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Her only ornament was a beautiful necklace of jade and old gold.

There were no attendants.

An informal reception and a supper followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram have gone South on their honeymoon trip and will probably travel for a year. They are planning to visit Los Angeles, and later will spend awhile in the Northern States and in the East. From New York they may go abroad. Mr. Ingram is a clever newspaperman and the couple have a host of friends.

MENEFEE-METCALF.

The marriage of Miss Louise Lake Menefee and Ensign Martin Kellogg Metcalf took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock in St. Peter's Chapel at Mare Island.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Wallace Berthold as matron of honor and Lieutenant Caldwell Turner, U. S. M. C., acted as best man.

Only relatives were present at the pretty ceremony. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Dan Menefee.

Ensign Metcalf is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Metcalf of Berkeley, and has many friends here. The bride is very popular with the younger set in Berkeley.

MUSICAL EVENT.

Mrs. Walter E. Nicholson has sent out cards for a musical to be given tomorrow afternoon at her home in Piedmont. The guest list includes half a hundred of her younger friends.

AT DINNER.

Dr. Alfred Grosse of San Francisco will entertain this evening at an elaborate dinner to be given at the Cosmos Club. The complimented guest will be Dr. Oliver D. Hamlin of this city, who has recently returned from an extensive tour of Europe. Covers will be laid for a dozen guests.

EBELL CLUB.

The Ebell Club has sent out the following bulletin for September: Tuesday, September 3, 10:30 a. m., meeting board of directors, 3 p. m., regular business meeting. GIRLS' BACHELOR CLUB IS ROUTED BY BOSS CUPID

Organization to Discourage Marriage to "Domineering Tyrants, Unfit to Associate With," Gets Back Broken.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., August 21.—Organized only one year ago, the Girls' Bachelor Club has already been routed by Dan Cupid. The club was formed by a number of up-town young women with the object of discouraging matrimony, but when Miss Katherine Beattie of 1623 North Tenth street, the treasurer of the association, was married on Saturday, July 27, the club received its death blow. Miss Florence Klebe, the president of the Girls' Bachelor Club, admitted Monday that the association, which was organized at her home, 2228 North Eleventh street had been a failure, and intimated that the announcement of a number of engagements of members of the club will follow in the fall.

The Girls' Bachelor Club was organized late in June, 1906, with twelve members.

At the first meeting stirring resolutions were passed denouncing the members of the sterner sex as "domineering tyrants, unfit to associate with," and each of the dozen bachelor girls pledged herself not to wed for at least five years. It was further resolved that the members should permit no man, unless he be her brother, father or uncle to escort her to a theater, dance, pleasure park or other place of amusement, or to treat her to candy, books or soda water. Even cousins were not excepted.

FLOURISHED FROM START.

The Girls' Bachelor Club flourished from the start, but from the start only. The early meetings were all well attended, and the young women found evident amusement in passing resolutions picturing mere man as some horrible creature. Finally the members began to lose interest in the affairs of the club, which then commenced to exist only in name. It remained for the treasurer of the club to set the other members an example, and then for the organization of bachelor girls to drop out of all existence.

What Is Necessary to Enjoy Holiday

By Lady Violet Greville.

One Must Become Lazy, Easy Animal

(BY LADY VIOLET GREVILLE.)

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Material things, the joys of life, that life which is shared with us by animals and insects, these are the things that occupy us now, for the summer holiday season has begun. To enjoy a real holiday one must become an animal, one must blink in the sunshine, bask in the air, inhale great draughts of moorland or sea breezes, tire one's limbs with healthy exercise, stretch one's self lazily in a hammock or on the fresh green turf, and spend every blessed hour of the day in the open air. Some people even go so far as to say that one should sleep in the open. But the climate of England rarely lends itself to this; heavy dews, the sudden icy chill of daybreak, or cold showers, are too common. But outdoor meals should certainly be taken whenever in any way possible.

The charm of eating in the open air is not sufficiently appreciated. Abroad, in the health resorts, every hotel possesses a veranda. Attached to every house is a garden and an arbor, where people can eat in peace among the verdure. We English are always afraid of a horrible caterpillar, of a crawling fly, of a greedy wasp, and yet what can be more loathsome than the smell of the average hotel coffee-room, the reek of fish and meat, and the swarms of hideous blue-bottles which hover around the dishes? It is enough to turn the stomach of any mortal who is not of the race of Gargantua.

PARIS MILLINERS REBEL AND PRICES GO SKYHIGH

Want Hats to Keep in Line With Gowns

PARIS, Aug. 21.—For the first time on record during the last twenty years, the milliners have raised their prices. There has been for some time an outcry among hat-makers that they could not obtain the same profits as the dressmakers, although they had the same class of clients.

They considered it unreasonable that a woman should pay as much as $1000 for a dress, and the very highest price they could obtain for a hat was $60. Today there is no possibility of complaint on this part, for they are making hats and selling them, too, at $240.

Wonderful structures of aigrettes and marabouts are seen at $140, and all thought we had reached the limit, but the $240 hat is an extravagance that one does not care to qualify.

"Surprising?" says the milliners. "Not at all. People wear real lace upon their dresses. Why should they not also have it on their hats?"

A correspondent was curious to see this sensational hat, and arrived just as it was being packed in its cardboard box; a circle of admiring assistants in ecstasies at its beauty. It was a large capeline in straw with a collar of Venetian point around the crown—the lace alone worth $150—and a small mountain of marabout and aigrettes on one side.

Such extravagance is not only wicked, but unnecessary, for, after all, who wears a hat of this price? Not a young woman certainly. Such foolish display can only come from an old woman, and she would do well to be more discreet.

BOSTON CLAIMS ONLY WOMAN GUIDE IN U. S.

Boston is said to have the only woman guide in the United States to places of historic interest. She has equipped herself with so much useful information that she believes herself to be able to answer any reasonable question about Boston. Her specialty is taking about parties of women, teachers and school children. Though an unusual thing in this country, woman guides are to be found in foreign cities, a number earn their living by showing visitors about London.

CORTELYOU'S RISE IS BURNING QUESTION

Mr. Cortelyou, Secretary of the Treasury, is the object of much discussion and every once in awhile some one suggests that this or that person "made" him. One of the last suggestions made was that it was Mrs. Cortelyou who had the principal part in the shaping of his rising fortunes. She indignantly denies that she or anybody else "made" her husband and declares that what he is is due to his own unassisted effort.

Queen Laments Short Figure

How to Dress To Appear Tall

Wide Gowns Ordered Worn

The woman who wants to seem taller must try to see how slender she can be. The thinner she is the taller she will look, other things being equal. But there are things she must do.

Queen Alexandra took lessons a year ago in trying to look taller. Shorter than the Princess of Wales, shorter than her daughters, shorter than nearly all the ladies of her court, she began to feel dumpy. She realized that with age she would shrink in inches, for old people are always shorter than they were in their prime, and she wanted to learn how to put off the evil day of looking short.

These are the things she learned: First, to hold up her head, a precaution that she little needed, for she has always carried her head well. Second, to dress in longer skirts, for her majesty has always run to the sensible English type of short skirts; and third, to dress her neck longer and wear her pompadour higher. She was also told that she must wear her gowns broader on the shoulders and must dress wider, so to speak. Little women make a mistake if they wear tight-fitting shoulders and long thin sleeves. They only make themselves look weazened.

Women Like Risque Novels

Women are catching it again. The recent publication of an erotic novel by a woman has led a London newspaper to make inquiries concerning the increase of this sort of fiction, says the New York Press. Frank Denny, the well-known English bookseller, was very emphatic in the expression of his views. "Literature," he said, "is being prostituted to commercialism, and the worst offenders, both in writing and in reading, are women." He declared that the things now being written by English women were "infinitely worse in their subtle erotic suggestiveness than anything Zola wrote."

A "leading London publisher," who requested the interviewer not to reveal his name, avails himself of his anonymity to have a fling at American women. "Women," he said, "and especially American women, are numerically the largest readers of novels, and, from the point of manuscripts accepted, they are also the largest producers. That has to be kept in mind when one talks of the comparative share of men and women in the writing and reading of this type of novel. Personally, so far as women are concerned, in any movement of that kind my experience is that they are far more free and far more frank than men. Whether this arises from a wilful desire to play with fire—if I may so put it—I do not know, but the fact is there."

REALITY

Of Love the minstrel sang, and drew
An easy finger o'er the strings,
Then laughed and sang of other things—
Of grass and flowers and azure blue.

Of Love the poet wrote, and soft
And sweet the liquid measures flowed,
Then gave his moments to an ode,
And crooks and shepherds mentioned oft.

One day the singer met with Love,
And mighty music shook his strings,
While dreams and light imaginings
His new-roused spirit soared above.

Love met the poet on his way,
And kindled all his soul to fire,
Filled all his measures with desire;
And left no room for fancies gay.

The minstrel sang to Love on song,
And died for joy, yet lives in this,
The poet, touched by Love's warm kiss,
With echoes fills the ages long.

FROM POLICY AND FUTURE HAPPINESS PROSPECTIVE BRIDE SHOULD WIN LOVE OF YOUNG MAN'S FAMILY

Secret Lies in Way She Treats His Mother and Sisters During Engagement

(BY ROSANNA SCHUYLER.)

It is the part not only of tact and sweetness for a girl to be liked by the family of her future husband, but it is also policy. A mother-in-law and sisters-in-law can do much to make life pleasant or filled with unpleasant moments for a wife, especially a young one, and, unless her relatives-to-be are a most disagreeable set a girl can usually make them her friends.

The secret of the whole matter lies in the way she treats them during her engagement, and it is quite worth while to make sacrifices if necessary. Sometimes the man's mother, more than his sisters, resent his engagement.

It is not always that she dislikes her future daughter-in-law, but she has a jealousy, not unnatural perhaps, that her son puts another woman before her in his affections. The older woman doesn't mean to be stubborn, and were she told she was jealous she would pooh-pooh the idea.

TRIES HER SOUL.

After all, her attitude is not unnatural, for the son she has cared for all his life suddenly, sometimes, falls in love with a girl of whom his mother knows nothing, or perhaps does know the younger woman's shortcomings even as she hears her son descant upon her perfections. It is this that tries her soul, and that makes her a bit acid or over-critical. Some mothers are always on the lookout to find some fault in the girl her son is to marry, and a search like this is usually immediately rewarded, human nature being full of faults and errors.

Precisely how the mother is affected by these discoveries depends upon the individual, of course. They may be trivial and she may ignore them, or they may be serious and she may put the girl right. If the older woman is kind-hearted the correction will be given in that spirit, but if she is hypercritical there is no doubt but that she can be exceedingly disagreeable in ways the girl can feel though she could not always express them.

DIFFICULT TASK.

If the mother is of this kind the task that the girl has of making herself beloved by her future mother-in-law is indeed difficult, but with patience and tact she can do it, and it is worth while.

Self-control and forebearance will be the two things most needed to win her victory, the former not to lose her temper or fall in deference, and the latter not to forget that the older women may be sore at heart and lonely. It is not easy for a young girl to hear sharp or critical things said without making a retort, especially when sometimes the comments are unjust, but with her mother-in-law-to-be it is better that she should be silent. The younger woman may, if circumstances permit, gently explain or defend herself, but if she finds no defense is to be permitted it is better that she should keep still. In any case, she must not lose her temper if there is to be more than armed peace between the two families later.

MANNER IRRITATING.

Let her watch herself a little and see if unconsciously she does not provoke the elder woman. Many girls who are engaged assume a proprietary and so-called "playful" air toward their fiance when with the latter's family that is most irritating to his people. A girl will announce a taste or expression of his to his mother or sisters with the air of one imparting a discovery, and they may have known it while she was still in long clothes. She "trots him around the ring," figuratively speaking, to people who know his every pace far better than she does, or at least they think that, and certainly they do not wish enlightenment from her on the subject. If she gives them they will call her impertinent, vain, conceited, silly, and all sorts of things. She will be far more popular by subordinating herself a trifle when with them.

Nor will she lose anything with her fiance. If he sees her gentle with his mother's irritability, or silent under unjust criticism, if he finds her trying to consider the older woman, showing her thoughtfulness and attention that a girl may, he is going to be more than ever certain that she is an angel, and in his later life will be spared hearing criticism of each woman by the other.

Woman Shoots Big Wild Bear

LENOX, Mass., Aug. 21.—Mrs. Charles Witham of October mountain is the bravest young woman in the Berkshires. Looking out of her kitchen window Sunday she saw a black bear weighing two hundred pounds eating her raspberries. She calmly took down from the wall her husband's shotgun and blazed away at Bruin at a two-rod range. The bear fell over dead. Bear steak will be served to tourists on the mountain this week and the skin will be made into a rug. Mrs. Witham's husband is a boss farmer on the William C. Whitney 16,000-acre game preserve on October mountain, and this is the first time in the history of the reservation that a bear has been killed.

Mrs. Witham is 25 years old. She is an expert rifle shot. In the Witham arsenal are a rifle, several shotguns and revolvers, any one of which she can use adroitly. She was alone in the house when she killed the bear.

A herd of thirty deer on the preserve are so tame that Mrs. Witham calls them by name and they come at her bidding. Herds of a dozen wild deer are often seen on the mountain now. The bear that Mrs. Witham killed is believed to be the wild animal that chased Frederick Hall and Robert Dewey of Pittsfield down the mountain on last Thursday night. It suddenly came out of the forest on the new Lenox road and jumped at the horses, which, crazed with fright, rushed down the mountain and smashed the wagon. Expert marksmen in the Lenox hills are getting up a bear hunt for the mountain this week.

Sphere of Woman Ends at Her Home

I think the sphere of true woman begins and ends at home. What this world needs most is willing wives and mothers, not drudges, but helpmates. Home should be a rest haven for the tired husband, the cradle for bright, happy-faced children who will carry a good mother's influence through life and a hope in the hereafter of meeting that dear mother beyond. What greater success for woman? Phoebe Cary says: "The bravest battle that ever was fought was fought by the mothers of men."

True, some women were never born to become wives or mothers.

TO REMOVE FRUIT STAINS.

To remove berry and fruit stains from table linen, stretch tightly over tub and pour boiling water on the stain until it disappears. Put into tub and wash.

Who Do You Think Is Right?

Here is a chance for the women readers of the woman's page of THE TRIBUNE.

Charles M. Schwab, the millionaire steel man, says that the sphere of a woman begins at home.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, society leader and brilliant leader of fashion, says the sphere of woman is where she chooses to make it.

Mr. Schwab says that marriage is always the goal of woman, and Mrs. Fish says marriage is a minor consideration to a career.

WHICH OF THE TWO DO YOU BELIEVE IS RIGHT?

THE TRIBUNE will pay $20 for the best letter on this subject. Send in your opinion. The contest will remain open until September 15. Write plainly on one side of the paper, and write clearly, limiting your letter to one hundred words.

Address, "Woman's Page Editor," THE TRIBUNE, Oakland, Cal.

Man's Abuse Has Made Woman Breadwinner

I admit woman's natural sphere is in the home, as a wife and mother, but man's abuse of woman's virtues has made her the independent breadwinner that she is today. Therefore I now proclaim a career, by all means, if it is in the woman. A woman glories in the knowledge that she is independent and her own master. The field today gives her wider scope for her ambitions, and business men find her conscientious and more to be depended upon than her male predecessors—another reason for her advancement. Such a woman has every chance to marry, and while pursuing her chosen vocation has ample opportunity to study the characters of her male associates, and, I think, make a very good choice. When she marries, she appreciates her change, and the woman instinct predominating, I think the home duties come as a natural consequence.

Trusting I may be the lucky winner, and with best wishes, I remain,

VIOLET H. WILLARD.

MY LADY'S GARDEN

My lady had a garden in her heart
Full of tall lilies, pale and virginal,
And roses white with waxen petals all,
Which only a faint perfume did impart.

Peaceful and still slept that dim garden close,
Unknown to men by gaudier fancies led,
Mystic, enchanted, hushed, unvisited,
Until one day I chanced it to disclose.

Led by the lily-bells that topped the wall,
Their stainless chalices lifted to the sun,
And the faint garden-scent, like as when one
Feels a loved hand on his hot forehead fall.

I entered that sequestered nook with awe,
That nook till then to maiden fancies given,
And turned my tired eyes to the pure blue heaven,
And breathed a prayer of thanks for what I saw.

A plot so lovely that my soul did thrill,
Even though virgin-white slept every rose.
Then while I gazed, lo! all the garden-close
Reddened with roseate blushes, lovelier still!

No longer now doth that sweet garden-close
Sleep in seclusion, white, and hushed, and calm,
But far and wide it wafts an odorous balm,
And everywhere Love's red, red rosebud blows!

—Charles Louis Story.

KENTUCKY COLONEL WOULD WED CALIFORNIA BELLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—Colonel A. Berberich of 126 West Walnut street, Louisville, Ky., is interested in the products of California, particularly the ladies, and for that reason he has addressed a letter to the Chamber of Commerce of this city, in which he makes inquiry in regard to the prices of lands and fruits and concludes with the inquiry: "What class of ladies are in the matrimonial market in Frisco?"

It is the intention of the colonel to come to California to live and to obtain not only a home in the Golden State, but a wife as well.

Secretary Burks of the Chamber of Commerce has been delegated by the trustees to invite the colonel to come on

Superstition Yet Rules Ye Bride

Perhaps there is no time of her life when a woman is more ruled by superstition than in the case of her bridal attire, and nearly every girl makes a point of carrying out the old dictum to the letter by including in her dress "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue." The latter is introduced in the form of an ornament and carefully hidden. No bride who hopes for a rosy future would, besides, dream of trying on her wedding gown in its completed form before the marriage takes place.

In Germany her superstitious scruples are carried even further and the dressmaker invariably contrives to leave some unimportant detail of the wedding dress unfinished, in which state it has to be worn at the ceremony. In former years green was sedulously tabooed, as the part of the bridesmaids on the score of ill luck, but this year touches of green have been introduced in numbers of cases into the toilets of the "maids of honor," either in the form of embroideries or the trimmings of the hats.

VETERANS MEET IN HONOR OF DEPARTED SOLDIERS

Mayor Mott Declares Country's Great Dangers Are Illegal Use of Capital and Undesirable Immigration.

The annual memorial services of Lyon Post No. 8, Grand Army of the Republic, were held last night in Loring hall. The departments of California and Nevada joined together for this testimonial to the loved ones who have gone before.

Long before the services began every seat was taken in the hall and many were compelled to stand. The services were simple and very impressive, being under the guidance of W. M Van De Mark.

STAGE DECORATED.

The stage was prettily decorated for the occasion, the Stars and Stripes forming a handsome background for the bowers of delicate roses and fragrant sweet peas.

The program was begun with the assembly bugle call by George Richville, a Civil veteran of the Telegraph avenue home.

After the opening prayer by the Rev R. Bair, a vocal solo by E. James Finney, entitled, "O, Dry Those Tears," was rendered. Finney was compelled to give an encore.

POEM READ.

The following poem was then read by J. Dutton

THE UNKNOWN DEAD.

Comrades! Chairs! they're draped in mourning,
Ah! the Reaper has been here,
Grim Death, the ruthless reaper
Claims our ranks from year to year.

Life's bright and rosy morning,
Young and strong and brave and true,
Then we honor here this evening,
Drew the sword and donned the blue.

They are gone—these chairs are vacant,
All their cares of life are o'er;
We have met tonight to honor
The brave heroes gone before.

Comrades, let us in memoriam
Reverently bow the head,
While with loving hearts we offer
Tributes to "The Unknown Dead."

MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

Mayor Mott was then introduced and spoke in part as follows:

"When I first received your invitation to this gathering tonight, I had already planned to be out of the city, but after thinking of my duty, I determined to be with you tonight and address you if possible. I have always felt sorry that I am not a member of your Post, and as I look out upon your faces I indeed consider it an honor to have the privilege of speaking to you.

We all cannot shoulder a musket and go forward to defend the flag, but there is always something for a good citizen to do in times of peace as well as war

COUNTRY IN DANGER.

This country of ours is not as it should be—there are two dangers before us—undesirable immigration and unlawful use of capital, and I will say that it behooves citizens to do their full duty at the polls that we may right the awful wrong that has been brought about by the use of money in an illegal manner. Take, for instance, the sad plight of San Francisco and there you have an example of the dangers that lie behind poor citizenship.

USE THE VOTE.

"Such things are a great menace to the country at large and I heartily agree with President Roosevelt in his determination to stop the trusts from running our fair land, and I will say, comrades, that each and every one of you can be of help by making use of your vote and see that none but tried and trustworthy men are elected to public office."

OBITUARIES GIVEN.

Short obituaries of fourteen deceased members followed and Mrs Margaret Blake-Alverson rendered a solo, "Comrades, we come once more."

W C. Alberger gave a stirring story of the life of General Nathaniel Lyon, which was a graphic account of the many brave deeds of this great general

The services closed with two delightful solos by Miss L M. Van De Mark.

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all, sick head ache is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them.

Soccer Banquet Is Postponed

Captain Elliott has ordered the annual banquet of the Oakland Hornets Football club, which was set for August 24, postponed until the return of Secretary Pomeroy from his trip in Mendocino county.

Frank Hawes and William Rawles, ex-Stanford University men, have joined the newly organized Caspar Association Football club (Caspar, Mendocino county). Rawles is a well known sprinter.

Andrew MacLachlan, the Hornets' well known right half back has just completed a vacation tour of Ireland, the Isle of Man and Scotland. Last month he ran across F. H. Fewster, secretary of the California Football association, in the Strand, London. The two enthusiasts donned a California poppy and called on a number of prominent "soccer" men in London, with a view to arranging a game between a picked team of one of the California Leagues and the Pilgrims and Corinthians, during the season of 1907-08. An attempt will be made to arrange for the game on the University football field, Berkeley, or at Idora Park, Oakland

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," as they all say, and their husbands say so, too.

BOARD OF EDUCATION CREATES NEW CLASSES

Owing to the crowded condition of the classes the classification committee of the Board of Education last night added the following new classes: Grant school, one new teacher, one new class; Peralta school, two new classes, Durant school, one new class

The committee has already reported two new classes opened at the Garfield school and one new assistant to principals. New class rooms have been, or will be in a short time, provided for each of these classes.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Members of the classification committee are assured that the Longfellow school will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks. It recommended that the pupils living north of the center line of Thirty-fourth street, now attending school at the Durant building in the fourth grade and below, be organized into five different classes and the following teachers assigned to these classes: Miss S. D. Wilson, to the fifth grade; Miss M. O'Connor, to the fourth grade; Mrs. Perkins to the third grade; Miss A. G. Hillings, to the second grade; Miss Lenfest to the first grade.

It is also recommended that as soon as the Longfellow building is completed and furnished, the above classes, together with the teachers named, be transferred to the building.

CHEAPER PLAN.

Heretofore library books have been transferred by the department mechanic to and from the library to the several school buildings. A price of 15 cents per package has been obtained from the regular parcel delivery company for transferring library books to and from the schools. The committeemen believe that this arrangement will be more satisfactory and cheaper that that heretofore used, so they recommended that the superintendent be empowered to transfer library books to and from the free library by means of the parcel delivery company.

A full report of the expense incurred and quality of service rendered is to be made later by the superintendent.

WORDS OF PRAISE COME FOR PINKERTON

The recent death of Robert Pinkerton, head of the detective agency bearing his name, has caused many friends in all parts of the world to come forward with words of esteem.

Many of Oakland's oldest residents remember Robert Pinkerton's quiet and unassuming manner, ready at all times to help at friend, but never forgetting a foe.

Pinkerton was in a class by himself when it came to detective duty, and though he often had many obstacles thrown in his way, and that, too, by some of the most influential men in the country, he in most cases succeeded in landing his man. In his death the country loses an honest, fearless and conscientious defender of law.

The defense of Plevna by the Turks, the failure of Grouchy to appear in that distressful Waterloo hour, the charge of the Noble Six Hundred, Custer's last stand, Nell Darling's heroism, these and sundry wonderful things we can recall to mind as we saw them in that glowing youthful period when every one imagines himself an embryotic "Little Corporal" and reads the tale of Puss in Boots with that philosophic scorn born of a sixteen year old experience. They are wonderful mental pictures, we admit, but never did we believe that we would live to see one ball club so humiliate another as did the Oakland team humiliate, harass, vex and mortify Danny Long's hired young men at Freeman's Park yesterday afternoon.

When it was all over and the official scorer counted up that bothersome tabulation, Oakland had submerged the Seals under a 14 to 4 defeat, and had slathered and splintered the long Mr. Henley for twenty hits.

Oakland merely walked away with the game. They won right off the reel. In the opening inning the Oakland slammers larruped Mr. Henley for eight runs and seven hits.

It was, indeed, a wonderful exhibition and if we had to describe everything that happened without making a mistake we would have Dr. Dippy by our side to see that we weren't telling our neighbors that we were Napoleon Bonparte or some other such lesser light.

OAKLAND'S TRIUMPH.

Oakland walked all over San Francisco. They hammered, clouted, slaughtered, butchered and mauled Long's men, and we think that even a liberal report of a government committee after yesterday's game would have to say that we made the poor Seals look like so much canned embalmed beef.

Poor Henley, poetic name that he has, had nothing but a prayer, and from what we saw with our mundane eyes we believe that at best it was a futile one, at that.

In every department of the game the Oakland club made the Seals look as though they had escaped from the W. C. T. U. League.

We hammered their pitcher, we outfielded them, we outrun them on the bases, we outdid them in every department of the game. In fact, a man would have to go far beyond the dictionary to find adjectives strong enough to express just exactly what we did to that poor Seal aggregation.

Oakland pounded Henley to a standstill. The hard hitters of the local team made the long gentleman look like a bull in a banker's office.

Coming over in the boat from San Francisco, Henley confided to a few friends that he would beat the "Prides." Poor Henley! He must be an unlettered man, or if he isn't old R. E. Morse must be a side kick of his today. We think that old adage about pride going before a great fall must be staring Henley in the eye hails by this time.

It was a terrible man handling that Oakland gave to the Seals.

So far as the events of the game are concerned, we firmly believe that even the Recording Angel overlooked some of them.

BIGBIE DIDN'T GET A HIT.

Only one player of the Oakland team failed to connect safely with the ball, and that was Bigbie, and but for a close decision on first base he would be in the hit column, too. Bliss led in the fireworks display by corralling four hits. Van Haltren, Wright and Eagan each got three. Eagan grabbed a homer and a double, while Van Haltren clouted out a double and two singles.

In the opening spasm twelve men faced Henley. They scored eight runs off him and smashed out seven hits.

That's going some.

The game ended in the first inning. The other eight innings were merely played for the accommodation and amusement of the largest crowd that ever saw a week-day game of ball in Oakland.

Oakland slapped poor Henley for thirteen singles, five doubles, one triple and a homer. Hits fell like promises at election time. The writer has been told it never snows in Oakland, but if anybody springs this on him in the future, he will refer them to yesterday's game when it certainly snowed hits, and that with a surpassing freedom and velocity.

GOOD FIELDING.

For such a hard hitting contest the game was unusually well fielded. Some of the most sensational catches of the season were pulled off during the nine spasms.

Smith started the "thriller' stuff in the opening inning when he made a great catch of a difficult one from the bat off Wheeler.

In the fifth inning Wheeler suffered another hit to be stolen from him when Heine Heitmulled went clean to the right field fence and gobbled up his hard hit fly with his gloved hand. It was a spectacular play and called for applause from the fans.

Devereaux' one hand catch of Henley's liner in the seventh inning was the climax of a trinity of great fielding stunts.

Oakland so far outplayed the Seals in every department of the game that it is really hard to see where the boys from the Burned City did any particularly good work, although it must be said that Irwin played a nice game of ball.

HOME RUNS WERE MADE.

In the opening inning of the game the "Prides" went after "Cack" Henley with a vengeance. They pounded him for seven hits, which together with two bases on balls and three stolen bases netted them eight runs.

For hard hitting that inning was the greatest we have yet seen on the coast. Truck Eagan pulled off his famous home run drive in this period. The ball hurdled the fence by a good twenty yards, and the beautiful point about it was that it came with two men on bases.

Bliss's single and bone headed playing by Spencer gave to the Commuters another run in the second. Doubles by Eagan and Bliss gave to the Commuters another tally in the fourth inning. Four hits brought the locals two more runs in the fifth. In the sixth Haley's triple and a single by Devereaux netted the locals another tally. Oakland scored its last tally of the game in the seventh on a walk to Heitmuller, Eagan's single and Wheeler's bad play.

The Seals got one in the second on Eagan's error of Esola's easy one, Haley's error on Street's rap and Streib's two base hit. A fielder's choice, a base on balls and two singles gave to the Seals another tally in the fourth inning.

Four hits gave to the Seals their last two runs of the game in the ninth spasm. The score:

SPECULATIVE SPORTS ARE TRYING TO PICK 3 WINNERS

Three Winners Would Make Nice Lot---Schreck-Kaufman Battle---McFarland Coming Fast.

(BY EDDIE SMITH.)

With the approaching of the dates for the coming carnival of fights, the speculative sportsmen are trying to pick the winners and interest is picking up to the extent that it would appear that all three will be a financial success.

Each day has brought orders for seats for the Thomas-Ketchel contest and the Schreck-Kaufman battle, and now that Jack Gleason has established quarters, the orders for the Britt-Gans fight will soon commence to pour in.

Which three to pick with a bet parlayed is the question that at present is uppermost in the minds of those who try to win a little easy money on the result of the contests.

A small bet placed on the winner of the Kaufman-Schreck battle, then placed with the winnings on the winner of the Thomas-Ketchel contest, and again placed luckily on the result of the lightweight scrap, would bring home a nice piece of money for the lucky bettor.

This would be particularly so if the bettors should happen to bet and win on Kaufman, Ketchel and Britt. These men will be on the short end and a good price will be laid against them. Stranger things than three short-enders winning in succession has happened in San Francisco, and in this case any one of the short-enders has a good chance to win.

There are many other ways that the combinations may be made and no doubt the poolroom men will have their hands full keeping account of the many different combinations.

For the past week each day has brought the news that Al Kaufman, who is to try his hand on tough Mike Schreck, will locate at Croll's in Alameda.

The big blacksmith has yet failed to put in an appearance and Delaney, who now wants the big fellow to do some boxing, has sent for him.

Kaufman has, for the past six months, done more boxing than any other heavyweight in America, and perhaps he feels that he does not need the work with the gloves.

Kaufman and Fred Landers have both been preparing for a prospective contest at the Hayes Valley Club, and in doing so they have been daily boxing with all the amateurs that trained at that gymnasium.

For the coming contest Kaufman needs strength and endurance more than cleverness, for the "fighting Dutchman" will keep coming at all times and the contest will be a slugging affair with both men trying for a knockout from the first round on.

The main thing that Kaufman will depend on in the coming fight is the punch that has bowled so many of the fighters of lesser light over. That he will hit Schreck there is not the slightest doubt, but can he hit him hard enough to put him away? That's the question.

Many of the fighters who also carry a good punch have tried to put the husky heavyweight to the floor, but none have been successful in making him take the count.

Schreck has little fear of the outcome of the battle. He seems to be of the opinion that he will be able to smother the blacksmith and beat him to the floor within short order. The idea of leaving himself open for a knockout never enters his head, it being his opinion that he has run the gauntlet of all the hard-hitters without going out or being even nearly put out.

Kaufman should arrive in Alameda today, and if he does he will immediately take up his boxing and gymnasium work. In a letter to Delaney he says that his wind is in excellent shape and his condition such that he will enter the ring with Schreck in better condition than for any of his previous contests.

Packey McFarland last night put poor old Benny Yanger, who was in former days known as the "Tipton Slasher,' out in the fourth round of a slashing contest.

Yanger, in his day, was regarded as one of the best boys in the country, and it is a well-known fact that when Terry McGovern was in his prime he would never listen to a proposal to a match with the Chicago boy.

McFarland has been making rapid strides of late and is regarded as one of the best boys in the country.

Battling Nelson is one of the youngster's staunchest admirers and has offered to bring the lad to the coast and back him against any lightweight here. He has offered to bet any amount as a side bet that he can beat Fred Landers, the clever California lightweight.

WEST OAKLAND SCENE OF SOME GOOD BOXING

Edwards and Kane Put Up Classy Four Rounds---Colored Gentlemen in Comedy Bout.

"My goodness, George, if you could only have seen those two smoked Irishmen go to it last night at the West Oakland club. I have often used the dumbells and done other exercise that made the muscles across my stomach sore, but that laugh last night beat anything I ever indulged in. Why, to laugh this morning would be like eating chocolate creams for toothache."

The management certainly lived up to its promise to give its patrons a good show, every contest with the exception of one being good.

Owing to the death of Jerry Fairbanks' father, that fighter rightly refused to go on with his contest with Otto Horn, and the Congo Coon and Willie Hagan went on in their stead.

The coon was willing to fight and went right after his white opponent. That gentleman, however, decided that the best place for him was the floor and he gently laid himself down to sleep.

The coon received his coffee and cake money, but the Irish lad who had laid down to a coon was rewarded for his trouble with the advice that if he did not hurry on his way he would receive something that he had not waited for the colored man to give him.

The main event between Frankie Edwards and Jim Kane was a nice contest well worth the price of admission. The men were equally matched as to size and the cleverness of both made the bout a classy affair, even though Edwards apparently outclassed the lad from "Cow Hollow."

Kane, who comes from a family of five fighting brothers, three of whom fought last night, started right after the Oakland boy from the jump, and from his first moves it was apparent that he intended to make a body fight. He tried for the body at all times during the first round, seldom shifting for the head. Edwards seemed to have a good line on his work and at all times was well blocked and the punches seldom landed. The Oakland boy contented himself with shooting his straight lefts to the face, and from the jump he out-pointed his smiling opponent.

In the second round Edwards opened up a little faster and did some damage. Kane kept coming at all times and the round was a preetily contested one.

The third was faster still and Edwards landed a stinger near the end which had the 'Frisco boy on queer street. He lacked the judgment to shift his punches from the head to the body and thus make an opening to land a clean blow to the jaw, and the end of the round found Kane still on his feet and fighting.

The fourth was devoted to Kane trying to land a sleep-producer. He realized that he had been out-pointed and made a game try for the lucky punch.

The clever and shifty Edwards covered up well and stabbed out cleanly with lefts and rights, however, which sent Kane to his corner at the end of the contest covered with blood. The decision went to Edwards.

Next in interest to this contest was the battle between the colored gentlemen, who were settling a long standing fued.

When the man were called to the center of the ring by the referee it was agreed that everything except biting and kicking would be allowed, each man expressing the opinion that he would eat the other alive.

Kid Frenchie, who is managed by John Fahey and whose claim to ability as a to the center of the ring, shook hands, and the battle was on.

An assortment of hooks and swings, with an occasional up, inward and outward shoot such as Jim Corbett and other notable clever men never dreamed could be mastered kept flying through the air. Had it not been for the fact that one man was of a darker shade than the other it would have been hard to tell which was which when the arms were flying through the air. Each of the men watched the color to keep from hitting himself with his own hand.

Every time that Frenchy saw a punch coming he opened his mouth as if he was about to eat the punch, but the best that he got was a rap on the chin. True to the clubing story, he would not go down, and the men fought until they laid on one another and punched the air in a frantic effort to land a sleep-producer.

After the first round both were so tired that neither could do any damage and they flopped around the ring as if giving an imitation of a drunken man. The crowd howled and laughed its approval of the contest, which was declared a draw.

The first contest of the night was between Kid West and Dick Sullivan. The boys met at the Reliance club last month, Sullivan fighting under the name of Eddie Lennon. West was given the decision at that time, but the best that he could get last night was the loser's end.

Jack Reilly, who is also one of the fighting Kane family, and Young Scotty came on for the second event.

Scotty has legs like Pop Hardie's and looked much the heavier. He knew little of the game, however, and the best he received was a beating for his trouble.

Young Sharkey and Joe Kane put up a very clever contest, in which Sharkey would have had a better chance had he not been afraid of his opponent in the first few rounds.

Kane was the best boxer of the two and won the decision. Sharkey made a spurt in the last round but waited too long. Had he started earlier he might have won.

BREEZY CHIT CHAT OF THE GAME

Bill Wright, Oakland's great twirler, was injured in a collision at first base with Nick Williams in the seventh inning of the game and had to give way to Happy Hogan. The injury is not a serious one and Wright will be back in the box before many days.

Guess that Oakland club can't hit. Last Sunday they made nine two baggers, and yesterday they slatted out five. Oakland also made a triple and a homer yesterday. That's poor stick work—nit.

* * *

That home run hit of Eagan's in the opener was the longest drive seen at Freeman's Park this year. The ball took the air ship route and has not been heard from since Truck walloped it.

* * *

Van Haltren's feat of making two hits in one inning is some indication of the agility and ability of that veteran.

George Haley ran the distance between second and third base on his single in less than "nothing."

Derrick umpired a swell game.

"There goes another $1.35," remarked Van Haltren when Eagan [illegible] on one of Henley's curveless [illegible] in the opener.

Jim Murray of Santa Barbara was among those present. Mr. Murray declared after the game that he never saw anything like it. Neither did we, Mr. Murray.

The Commuters certainly put the sign of the "Huckamudge" on the Seals yesterday.

It looked as though they would have to call the fire department to put Oakland out in the first inning yesterday.

* * *

Happy Hogan made the longest single ever made in the world in the eighth inning yesterday. Happy caught one on the gobboon, and he stung it so hard that Hildebrand thought it was going to do the Truck Eagan specialty. But unfortunately for Happy, the ball struck the top rail on the last hurdle and bounded back in Hildebrand's hand. By a quick throw, Hildebrand held Hogan to first base. It was a much harder rap than Haley's triple, and Henley thinks that was hard enough.

Let's take the whole series.

Smith's record of two stolen bases in the opener is a remarkable one. A friend of Jimmy's up Pinole way sent the demon mandolin player a pair of shoe strings made out of deer hide Sunday. That accounts for the high

Interesting Notes About Racing Matter

By LEE DEMIER

There is talk at Fort Erie that the meeting there will not be extended to September 14.

* * *

A dispatch from Saratoga states that there is talk of the relative merits of Uncle and Spooner. Sam Hildreth says that he is satisfied that next to Colin, Uncle is the best two-year-old in America, and has declared his willingness to race the son of Star Shoot against Spooner or any other youngster, barring the Keene champion, for anything up to $10,000 a side. There is, however, little chance for a match race. The Jockey Club is inclined to discourage matches and Andrew Miller, one of the owners of Spooner, is one of the foremost members of the Jockey Club.

Everybody in both rooms at Sausalito yesterday had a little "Tonic."

The dead heat between Hyperion II and Tony Bonero at Saratoga recently was the third this year. The first was between Ida May and Laura Clay at Hot Springs, February 4. The next was that of Ben Cole and Billie Hibbs in the Dinner stakes at Bening, March 30, but Billie Hibbs was disqualified. At Louisville, May 30, Botles and Miss Alert ran a dead heat for second place.

The Albany handicap will be decided today at Saratoga.

McFarland Beats Old Benny Yanger

FT. WAYNE, Aug. 31.—Packey McFarland, the rising young lightweight of Chicago, added another victory to his string here last night when he disposed of Benny Yanger in the fourth round.

McFarland must now be considered in the very front rank of the lightweights. Battling Nelson recently said that he considered McFarland the best boy in the game at his weight.

Jamestown Men Compete Sunday

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—The athletic events which are scheduled to be part of the program to be presented to the spectators who attend the automobile meet at Tanforan Park under the auspices of the Olympic club on next Sunday promise to be interesting in view of the fact that members of the Olympic track team who are to go to the national championships at Jamestown are to take part in the various contests. Charlie Parsons, the Los Angeles sprinter will arrive from the south this evening and will put in the next few days on the cinder path at Berkeley. Parsons and Pete Gerhardt will run a special 100-yard dash on Sunday, which ought to be exceptionally interesting in view of the fact that both runners are in the weight events on Sunday, and as they are both good for forty-five feet or over it will be a contest well worth seeing. Garner, Kelly and Padilla will try for a coast record in the half-mile run. Garner holds the present record, made at Stanford last spring, but he will endeavor to better it on Sunday.

SIX MONTHS LEAVE GIVEN

Patrolman Developes Case of Tuberculosis After Three Months' Service.

On the recommendation of Health Officer D. E M. Ewer and Drs John F Slavich and C E Curdts, police officer, L. E. Silveria was granted six months leave of absence with half pay by the Fire and Police Commission, this morning, in order to give him a chance to recover from an attack of incipient pulmonary tuberculosis contracted from exposure in the performance of his duty on night watch to which he was assigned when he began his regular duties as a patrolman on January 1st

His condition grows primarily out of a cold contracted early in the year which subsequently developed a case of pneumonia and shortly after recovering from the latter, he over-exerted while in his weakened condition in the capture of a prisoner who attempted to escape from the chain gang which produced a pronounced case of tuberculosis

SIX MONTHS REST.

The physicians certifying to his condition state that a rest of six months and change of climate will probably result in effecting a cure

The leave was not granted however, without some hesitation on the part of the commissioners, for the reason that the applicant for relief had been so short a time in the service of the department

Secretary Fawcett testified that he had passed a first class examination before receiving his appointment

Commissioner Turner—I think we ought to adopt a probationary test This is the third case of an early development of tuberculosis in the department This man has practically served about three months on the force and now he is virtually a pensioner It is true that the record shows that he has contracted the disease in the service, but it looks as if he was constitutionally unfit when he was appointed I move that the application be granted and that the chief of police be instructed to devise some probationary plan for the testing of an applicant's physical capacity for patrol service before his appointment, so that in the event of any physical weakness resulting from the test it may have a chance to show itself before he gets appointed and has a claim on the pension roll

Commissioner McElroy concurred in Commissioner Turner's views and the motion was carried Alleged Confession on Supposed Deathbed Takes Husband to Divorce Court.

On the confession that his sick wife is said to have made when she thought she was about to die, James Munroe Jones asks a divorce against Mabel Jones

Jones alleges in the complaint filed yesterday afternoon in the Superior Court, that Mrs Jones was about to die several months ago when she made the startling confession to him that she never loved him, but said she loved a man by the name of McDonald. For the lover she is said to have pined and cried

After recovering from the illness, Jones says his wife still pleaded for her other lover

According to the divorce papers, Mrs Jones cried aloud all night long for McDonald Jones says he could not catch a wink of sleep as long as his wife wailed for the only man she said she ever loved.

INDIAN SLAIN WITH AN AX

Drunken Tribesmen Murder Aged Redman When They Are Refused Dine.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 21.—Jose Capistrano, an Indian 60 years old, belonging to the Santa Isabel reservation, was attacked and killed near Julian Monday by three Indians of the Anahuac reservation.

According to Capistrano's wife, the assailants, who were drunk, demanded wine from her husband He refused, and the men attacked him. He defended himself until one of the Indians seized an ax and struck him on the head Capistrano died the next day

The Indians who attacked him are under arrest, and there is strong probability that the tribal feeling between the two reservations may result in further trouble, as there is no love between these tribes.

WILL FIGHT TO WIN MILLIONS

Pinole Resident Claims Share In Estate of Paul McCormac, Killed in Auto Wreck.

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 21—The sensational death of Mrs. Carrie A Converse-McCormac and Millionaire Paul McCormac, who were killed in an automobile wreck in Darien Conn, five days ago, promises to result in a will contest that will rival the celebrated contest that followed the death of Mr. and Mrs Charles Fair in France

Frederick William Converse the adopted son of the late Mrs Converse-McCormac who now resides in Pinole, Contra Costa county, intends to leave for the East in a few days to lay claim to his share of the millions left by McCormac and his wife Whether or not the young man will be entitled to the property of young McCormac, inasmuch as his death followed that of his wife, will be a matter for the courts to decide It is this point that will give the case the same legal aspect as the Fair case, as both Charles Fair and his wife were killed almost simultaneously in the automobile smashup

Why Do You Wait?

Not a day passes but what I have men come to me in a terrible condition from neglect and improper treatment It seems to me that any man in a diseased state ought to know that his trouble is being aggravated for the want of proper medical attention. Do they know it and neglect it, or, is it because many unprincipled men in my profession take advantage of them, and when they are afflicted with some trivial disease make them believe they have every disease on the calendar?

Is It The Reason?

I think it must be, and I want to say to all men who are suffering from VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE LOST MANHOOD, PROSTATITIS, BLOOD POISON STRICTURE, WEAKNESS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, CONTRACTED PAINFUL DISCHARGES, UNNATURAL DRAINS and LOSSES that you can come to me with confidence I will give you nothing but a straightforward and honest statement of your troubles and will not exaggerate your case one particle.

I do now and always have conducted my business on a straight "golden rule" plan, and I have yet to hear one of my patients who will not back me up on every word of this I am like a first-class mechanic Who ever heard of one of them misrepresenting or resorting to anything underhanded in their work, they are too proud of their skill, they are always striving to make things better than they ever made them before, their heart and soul is in their work, and thus, it is with me.

CONSULTATION AND EXAMINATION FREE

If you are sick and ailing with any disease peculiar to men, you can come to me with the assurance that you will receive an honest explanation of your trouble If it is curable I will tell you so, if not, I will be just as candid I convinced of my skill and my ability to cure you before I take your case

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPE
BY IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

An old sore or ulcer is only a symptom, an outlet for the impurities and poi which are circulating in the blood, and as long as this vital fluid remains in this im and contaminated state the place will never heal. It may scab over and appear to getting well, but a fresh outpouring of diseased matter from the blood starts it again, thus it goes on, sometimes for years, continually growing worse, and slowly sapp away the strength and vitality of the sufferer.

There are many ways by which the blood may become contaminated and poiso A long spell of fever, or other sickness, breeds disease germs in the system, the failur nature's eliminative members to remove the waste and refuse matter of the body, the ex sive use of minerals in certain diseases, all infect the blood with morbid matter and ge which sooner or later manifest their presence by a sore or ulcer which refuses to under the ordinary treatment of salves, washes, lotions, powders, etc. A boil, blister, pimple, burn or even a slight scratch, often develops into a festering or discharging ulcer if the system is run down or the blood depreciated from any cause.

Persons with an inherited blood taint are very apt to be afflicted with sores and ulcers. Being born with an unhealthy blood supply, the different parts of the body are never fully nourished, and when middle life is reached or passed and the vigor and stren of the system begins to weaken and wane, the tissues in some weak point break down a chronic sore or ulcer is formed, and kept open by the constant drainage of impure ma from the blood. How aggravating and stubborn an old sore can be is best known by th who have nursed and treated one for years, applying salves, washes, powders, etc., with good results. The place remains and continues to grow worse by eating deeper into surrounding flesh, festering, discharging, sometimes throbbing with pain, and gradu undermining the constitution by its unhealthy action on the system.

It is a great mistake to expect to cure these places with external applications. T this treatment assists in keeping the parts clean, and are beneficial in this way, but do reach the real trouble which is in the blood. The practice of cutting out the diseased p and even scraping the bone beneath, is often resorted to, but these severe measures sel do any permanent good. The sore may be moved, and for a time heal over, but the s poison that produced it the first time is still in blood, because The Blood Cannot Be Cut Aw and The Sore Will Return.

S.S.S.
PURELY VEGETABLE

The only treatment that can do any good is a competent blood purifier—one that to the very bottom of the trouble and removes cause, and for this purpose nothing has ever b found to equal S. S. S. It goes down into circulation, drives out all poison and morbid matter, reduces the inflammation, and sending pure, rich blood to the diseased parts, instead of feeding them with impurit allows the sore to heal naturally and permanently. Not only does S. S. S. purify the bl of all poisons and germs, but builds it up from its weakened and impoverished state, mak it strong and healthy and able to supply every part of the body with sufficient and pro nourishment to keep it in perfect health. If you have a sore that is slow in healing, do depend upon external applications alone, nor experiment with unknown medicines, but be the use of S. S. S., and by removing every vestige of the cause, cure the trouble per nently. Special book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice desired sent free to who write.

PACIFIC WIRELESS!!
The biggest investment offered at $4 per share.

Messages will shortly be transmitted between the U. S. and the Sandwich islands. Vessels crossing the Pacific between the U. S., the islands, Australia, Manila and Japan will be in communication by wireless telegraphy. The U. S. transport Thomas in her recent trip from Manila, as reported in the Tribune of August 12th, had communication by wireless when 870 miles off the coast, as was the case with the steamer Brilliant recently when off the Alaska coast 600 miles.

Messages are being continuously transmitted overland from San Diego to northern points in British Columbia and Alaska, and recently a message was sent from Point Loma, San Diego, to Pensacola, Fla., and thence to Washington, D. C., and thence to a Government vessel at sea 600 miles on the Atlantic. Invest now in this stock while you can and await results, which cannot fail of being satisfactory. Two years ago the price of stock held by the company was $5, last year $6, today $7, and what it will be who can tell when it shall have supplanted the present system of poles and wires with all the attendant immense outlay for maintenance. Consider the marvelous growth in value of the stock in the Western Union or Bell Telephone, at the outset worth $1 per share, now $2000 or more. I can sell for immediate delivery 500 shares at $4.60; present price by company, $7.

Business Property

Lot 25x138, located on San Pablo ave., close in. This lot is in a good business center and is joining property that is sold at $250 per foot. With the improvements that are now being made on the avenue it is not considered too high at that price. We are compelled to sell this at once and are authorized to accept $12 per foot.

Store and Flats

Located on the northwest corner of 7th and Grove, right down town; building is 3 years old and strictly modern. It was built by day's labor and is under partial lease at the present time yielding an income of $101 per month net. This property is increasing in value very rapidly. The improvements being made on this street will cause a sharp advance in property within the next 60 days. We have secured a short option on this very desirable property at the extremely low price of $10,500.

Guaranteed Income

Lot 25x100, just west of Broadway, right down town, has a modern building about 4 months old, consisting of store and 9 rooms above. This property is under a 3 year lease at $150 per month net. The lease is bonded and the present tenant would be pleased to secure a longer term at the same rental. This desirable business property is improving daily. We are offering it at the very low price of $10,500; it can be handled for $5000 cash, balance flat loan.

Tenth Street

Just east of Broadway with a full-sized lot and a 3-story modern building, store below and flats above. This property is occupied practically by the owner. What is rented is without lease, so immediate possession can be given. It would easily bring an income of $175 per month at the present time. This is a class of property and in a district that it is practically impossible to acquire property in at this time at any price. We have a 2-day option on this at a price that the ground alone is worth, to wit, $15,500. We do not hesitate to say that this is the best down-town buy we know of and expect to sell it to the first purchaser we show it to.

$300 per Mo. Net

is the income on this property for 9½ years yet with a guaranteed lease bonded for $10,000. It is a corner 3 blocks from Broadway inside of 10th st; lot 100x100, almost entirely covered with modern improvements. Lease also has a provision whereby owner can place additional buildings on the property and thereby increase the income either to the present tenant or rent separate. This property is well worth $35,000 at the present time and will be worth twice that amount by the time the lease expires. We are authorized to offer this property for a few days only at $32,000.

IDENTIFIES EX-CONVICTS AS MURDEROUS HIGHWAYMEN

Guards Keep Close Watch on Four Men Accused of Brutally Beating Man They Robbed.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—With a courtroom packed with people who gazed with craning necks at the leering evil faces of the four ex-convicts captured yesterday, George Felphes related the damaging evidence against his alleged assailants at their preliminary examination.

It was with difficulty that Felphes was allowed to relate the details of the murderous assault made upon him by the Williams, William Kelly and Frank Brown. Williams, William Kelly and Fran kBrown. Attorney Ford, for the defense, continually interrupted Felphes, who does not speak good English, and District Attorney Ward had a hard time eliciting the details of the crime.

COURT TAKES HAND.

Judge Weller bore with the interruptions and objections of Ford about as long as he could. He then told the attorney for the defense that he had interrupted Felphes a sufficient number of times and proceeded to overrule every objection that Ford put in.

One after another Felphes pointed out the four accused men as the ones who assaulted him. He identified each of them. He knew which one it was who took him by the throat, which one hit him with a revolver and which searched his pockets and robbed him of his money.

The entire evidence given by the complaining witness was taken down in shorthand and will be used when the trial comes up in the superior court. Felphes will sail this afternoon at 3 o'clock on the steamer City of Sydney.

WATCH PRISONERS.

Bailiff Mogan kept close watch on the prisoners during the entire time that they were in the court room. They sat next a window which has no bars on it, and Mogan knew that they would let no opportunity slip for making a "getaway." Sergeant Campbell, captain of the city prison, personally saw to the handcuffing of the men and three guards transferred them from the prison to the court.

Sheriff Veale of Contra Costa county, who intends taking a look at the men, had not called at the city prison up to 12 o'clock today. But it is expected that he will endeavor to identify them some time this afternoon.

Detective Conlon of the harbor police station this morning identified Haines and Williams as two men whom he had taken into custody on suspicion of burglary about two months ago. The case against them was dismissed at that time for lack of sufficient evidence.

TEACHERS HOLDING TWO POSITIONS MUST LET GO

Board of Education Deems it Unfair---To Ask Traction for 2 1-2 Cent School Rate.

Teachers holding two positions in the Oakland schools will be asked to resign from one, and possibly both, before the Board of Education is through with their individual cases.

Director A. L. Hannaford of the Board of Education stated last night that he had been informed that in the Central Evening school there are teachers who are working regularly at night and substituting during the day. By doing so, they are filling positions which are being sought by many anxiously waiting pedagogues.

The board seemed to think that this was not proper, so the matter was referred to the judiciary committee with power to dismiss the teachers who hold dual positions.

WANT TRACTION RATE.

A matter that will be of vital importance to school children of Oakland and parents was brought up by Director Hannaford, who suggested that the Oakland Traction Company be communicated with for the purpose of having the rate of two and a half cents a ride fixed for pupils on their way to and from schools. This has been done with great success in other cities on the coast, and it might be adopted in Oakland. The board looked with favor on the proposition and will take it up with the traction company at once.

This would be of particular benefit to high school students, who come from all parts of the city.

Complaint was made last night by Superintendent McClymonds of the huckesters who peddle wares around the schoolhouses. As soon as the youngsters get out of classes they meet the wagons full of cornucopias, peanuts and candy. While the school authorities have control of the children from the time they leave home until they return, yet they are powerless to restrain them from trading with the refreshment venders.

The board will take the matter up with the city authorities, with a view to putting a ban on the alleged nuisance.

Leaves of absence for the rest of the present school term were granted to Elizabeth McCudden and Flora I. De Wolfe.

Resignations from Julia Smith and Stella M. Stiles were accepted.

REFUSE TO PURCHASE.

Claiming that is is being "held up" by an alleged exhorbitant price, the Board of Education last night quietly snubbed the offer of $30,000 for the Stone property at the northwest corner of Tenth and Jackson streets. John A. Sands, former assistant county superintendent of schools, represented G. F. Stone, owner of the property in block 110 not in possession of the city of Oakland.

The board says that Stone placed the price of his property several times higher than the other portion of the block, and now he is said to be trying to force it on the board. They will place a high fence next to Stone's property and defy his realty values.

TELEGRAPHER DECLARES COMPANIES TO BE SUED

Deputy President Copps of the Telegraphers' Union this morning declared that certain business interests of California will appeal to the courts in an effort to "compel the telegraph companies to give them partially adequate service."

Women figure prominently in the telegraphers' strike, which is now entering on its third week. Women operators are being imported daily from all parts of the country to the Western Union Telegraph office on Seventh and Bay streets, West Oakland, where business seems to be moving in an apparently fair manner without much disturbance of any kind from sympathizers.

Perfect peace existed around Sunset Hall this morning, where the usual meeting of the telegraphers was called by Deputy President Copps, who seems earnest in his belief that the telegraphers' strike will be settled eventually in a satisfactory manner to the union. No word has yet been heard from President Small, who it is believed is now in New York.

VIEWS OF COPPS.

Speaking of the local situation, Deputy President Copps this morning said:

"We have

NEAR $500,000 FOR WEEK

GOLDFIELD, Aug. 21.—The output of the mines and leases of the Goldfield district for the past week was 3816 tons, having an estimated value of $429,100. This is the third heaviest week of production in the history of the district—practically the second, for the heavier production of one week was due to the monthly shipment of high grade from the Mohawk and Combination mines. Last week was the heaviest producer, the output being 4074 tons, valued at $472,975. The statement of the output published last week recorded a production of 3709 tons, which by an oversight did not include 365 tons of Mohawk-Jumbo ore shipped to the new sampler of the Western Ore Purchasing Company in this city. The Frances Mohawk lease No. 3 has about completed preparations for making regular shipments, and nearly all the producing properties expect to shortly increase their output, so it does not appear that there is much likelihood of a falling off in this week's figures, but rather an increase.

A dividend of ten cents a share on the capital stock has been declared by the Mohawk-Jumbo Lease Company, payable on September 3. This will mean the distribution of $60,000 among the shareholders.

STANFORD JEWELS SOLD.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The announcement was made today that almost all the diamonds belonging to the estate of the late widow of Leland Stanford have been quietly disposed of and the proceeds will be devoted to Stanford University, in compliance with the owner's will.

The sale was held in a wholesale house in London under the supervision of a committee consisting of Timothy Hopkins, Joseph Grant, Charles D. Lathrop and Ambassador Reid. It is said that only $350,000 was realized, although experts appraised the gems at half a million and regarded them especially valuable, nearly all having interesting histories.

GALLAGHER STILL IN TOWN, SAY HENEY AND BURNS

Prosecution Unable Definitely to Locate Missing Ex-Supervisor — Boxton Wants Chance to Earn Living.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—"Of course he's here."

This is Francis J. Heney's curt reply to the question as to whether or not ex-Supervisor Gallagher had left suddenly for England.

Heney and Detective Burns agree as to Gallagher's proximity. Where he is they will not say, but they deny as absurd the reports that he has gone on a long journey.

Dr. Boxton this morning ventured the opinion that Gallagher had gone away for a little rest and recreation.

HUNTING, SAYS BOXTON.

"I saw him a week ago," said Dr. Boxton, "and I think he has gone away for a little rest and recreation. He is probably hunting or fishing. I don't think he is right in town, but I guess he's close by."

Dr. Boxton has been having a little vacation at Redwood City. He says it is going to be hard for the old board to remain constantly under orders of the prosecution.

"I can't go back to my work," said Dr. Boxton, "My time is nearly all taken up with trials. What are the members of the old board going to do if these trials go on for years? They don't give us time enough to earn a living."

"Isn't it possible," Boxton was asked, "that the prosecution might make some sort of an appropriation for the professional witness stand?"

"GOOD IDEA."

"Now that would be a good idea," said Dr. Boxton, with quickened interest.

Life in San Francisco is not proving attractive to the members of the boodle board, and no one would be surprised to learn that Gallagher had gone. Heney and Burns, however, are confident that the ex-supervisors will continue to be "good dogs."

"Why," said Burns this morning, "this talk about Gallagher's being away is all rot. I saw him yesterday."

GRAND JURORS DEMAND ALL GRAFTERS PUNISHED

Four Members of Body Rebel Over Immunity Contracts Given Boodlers by Heney and Langdon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—The members of the Oliver grand jury have rebelled against the "immunity contract" system which District Attorney Langdon and Francis J. Heney have made the foundation of their prosecution of the boodlers of this city. Individual grand jurors are now open in their criticisms of the methods that permit the punishment of a chosen few of the "grafters" and the escape of others who are equally guilty. As a result of this expressed sentiment a movement headed by Jurors Charles Sonntag, James E. Gordon, Dewey Coffin and F. G. Sanborn is now striving to accomplish the indictment of all the old boodling Supervisors who have been granted immunity by Langdon, Heney and Burns.

NOT TO SHIELD GUILTY.

The dissenters take the position that their integrity is at stake and that they are expected to prove to the public of San Francisco that they are opposed to shielding officials guilty of crime.

Langdon, Heney and Spreckels, however, take the position that the means justify the ends they have in view and that the Supervisors are mere pawns in a game of far-reaching consequence to San Francisco.

The members of the grand jury who think differently are very positive in their opinion about the necessity of curtailing the immunity system, however, and are openly voicing their conviction in the matter to the prosecution.

DISMISSES JURY.

"I perceive that you gentlemen are quite tired with your arduous work," said Heney to a member of the jury a few days ago. "I think you are all deserving of a rest. There is nothing further of real importance to come before the jury, and you may as well be dismissed."

"But what of all this promised municipal departments?" inquired the juror. "I understood that we had plenty of work before us. How about the Board of Health and the Board of Education, for instance?"

"Those are matters that have been fully attended to," said Heney "We have a great book filled with evidence concerning the irregularities in both boards, but there is no necessity of bringing this evidence before the grand jury. The plan of the prosecution is to present Mayor Taylor with the evidence and he will have no difficulty in removing the boards."

Rejects Changes in Irish Tenant's Bill

LONDON, Aug. 21.—With the Irish Nationalists all wideawake, and nearly everybody else asleep after the night-nong session, the House of Commons at 3:30 o'clock this morning began consideration of the House of Lord's amendments to the evicted tenants' bill. Practically all the Lord's changes were rejected by the House, which appointed a conference committee.

2000 Rich Men in In Panic Sell Autos

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The World says that more than two thousand New Yorkers, some of whom are millionaires, have sold their automobiles within the last few weeks. The dealers have attributed the sales to the so-called rich man's panic in Wall street.

Says Shopkeeper Cheats With Weight

Panagioto Kocoris, proprietor of a candy shop at 901 Washington street, was arrested last evening on a complaint sworn to by Policeman C. J. O'Grady, charging the shopkeeper with defrauding in weight. O'Grady declares that he purchased some candy in the place which he afterward found to be less than the weight he was supposed to receive. Kocoris was released on $100 bail. The case will come up in the Police Court tomorrow to be set for a hearing.

The PARAGON Is Selling Out TEN DEPARTMENTS

Goods Will Be Sold for Just What They Cost Us

Mighty Crowds Attending This Sale

This sale was started Monday morning, and every hour of each day since, the store has been crowded to the doors with women who realized that we were actually selling goods for what they cost us.

We could not offer you these prices under any other condition except that we are selling out these ten departments.

On Monday and Tuesday we had so many customers from Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley who seemed so satisfied that they had come to the sale, that we believed it best to tell all of the people in Alameda county about the bargains to be had.

Come to the store tomorrow, as every day you wait the assortment grows smaller. If you come at once you are assured of a fine selection of merchandise. Be on hand early. Bring along your suit case to carry home the goods. At the prices we are asking we cannot afford to make deliveries.

Goods Will be Sold at Actual Cost to Us

The following ten departments containing merchandise aggregating $150,000 in value must absolutely be sold out in twelve days:

Muslin Underwear	Notions
Knit Underwear	Leather Goods
Children's Wear	Veilings
Infants' Wear	Ribbons
Gloves	Neckwear and Belts

Each and every article in these departments will be sold for what it cost us. Thus you can buy a single article for the same price we had to pay buying in wholesale lots. Your saving will be enormous.

Rules Governing the Sale

As we make no profit on the goods—simply sell them to you at actual cost—we must refuse to make any deliveries or accept any C. O. D. orders or orders by 'phone, message or mail. Positively no goods will be exchanged. Come here—select the goods—pay us only what they cost us—take them away yourself.

To the Women of Oakland

Here indeed is your opportunity to buy goods at the lowest prices ever offered in San Francisco or Oakland for good reliable merchandise. There never has been a similar combination of circumstances in a retail store where they were forced to sell out ten departments at one time.

Here's the Reason for This Sale

Here's the whole reason for this sale: We cannot enlarge our floor space to accommodate our fast growing business—so we must sell out ten departments before September 1st in order to enlarge our other departments.

We have arranged for a big force of carpenters to alter the store on the first of the month and make room for the cloak, suit and waist departments.

Being recognized leaders in these ladies' ready-to-wear garments, the departments have grown by leaps and bounds; we must make room for their expansion; hence the ten other departments must be sold out.
